END OF THE COAL STRIKE BELIEVED IN SIGHT

ALL PARTIES SEEM WILLING TO ENTER INTO CONFERENCE

OHIO OPERATORS ASK LEWIS TO SUMMON NATION-WIDE CONFERENCE SATURDAY

UNITED MINE WORKERS' LEADERS ARE JUBILANT, CLAIM THEY HAVE WON STRIKE

(By United Press.)
Efforts moved rapidly toward a settlement of the nation-wide coal strike in the bituminous and anthracite coal fields today.

Offers from operators in Ohio and Pennsylvania to meet with John L. Lewis in conference to end the walk-out were met by the United Mine Workers' leaders with the triumphant exclamation: "The miners have won the strike."

Indiana mine owners, according to Governor McCray, are apparently ready to negotiate an interstate wage agreement. Ohio operators called upon Lewis to summon a nation-wide conference at Cleveland Saturday.

Illinois operators are known to be ready, while owners of 17 mines in Pennsylvania asked for a "new kind of conference" that would end the strike.

Strike End Seen

Indianapolis, July 27.—End of the nation-wide coal strike apparently was in sight today.

Governor Warren T. McCray, dealers and mine owners were ready to enter into an interstate wage conference.

Groups from Ohio and western Pennsylvania signified their willingness to open negotiations covering the Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania fields. Operators of Illinois have been willing to enter a four-state conference since the strike began March 31st.

McCray wired John Hessler, president of the Indiana union attending the conference of district leaders at Philadelphia, informing him the Indiana owners apparently are ready to negotiate a new scale.

Predicts End Miners Strike

Philadelphia, July 27.—Prediction that the miners will be back in the pit within 30 days was made by miners leaders assembled here today.

John Hessler, representative from Terre Haute declared. "The strike is won for the miners." He said he expected a joint conference with the operators would be called and differences quickly settled.

Lignite Miners in Separate Class

Bismarck, N. D., July 27.—Lignite miners may settle their strike by establishing themselves in a class separate from either anthracite or bituminous miners.

This was one plan North Dakota operators and miners are working on to secure an immediate maximum production of lignite coal.

The mining of lignite is so simple, it was pointed out, that citizens could take the place of strikers and in an emergency establish production. Striking miners are going into the harvest fields and don't care to dig.

The non-union men in North Dakota are maintaining production, and are prepared to extend their operations. The possibility of state institutions suffering from a shortage is vague, it was said. The state institutions are required by law to burn North Dakota coal.

McCray Prepares for State Operation

Indianapolis, July 27.—Governor McCray prepared for state operation of the coal mines today to break the death grip of a fuel shortage in Indiana business. Reports of serious curtailment of public utilities and private industries continue to pour into the state capitol impressing officials with the gravity of the situation.

Operators Ask for Conference

Pittsburgh, July 27.—Representatives of 17 coal mines in western Pennsylvania and Ohio today offered to enter into a kind of conference with

Industrial Peace Prospects are Much Brighter

N. P. ROAD WILL PUT MOTOR BUS ON AT FARGO SOON

St. Paul, July 27.—A rail motor car will be placed in operation this month on the Fargo and Southwestern branch of the Northern Pacific railway, to run between Fargo and Lisbon, N. D., according to an announcement made by A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager.

"The Northern Pacific has been experimenting for some time with a motor car on its subsidiary line, the Gilmore and Pittsburgh, and more recently on the S. P. & S., said Mr. Smith, "but this will be the first car of this sort to run on Northern Pacific rails. If its performance is satisfactory it is not unlikely that this kind of service will be extended to other branch lines."

The car, which was built by the International Motor Truck company, embodies the latest features in design and construction and provides all the comforts of the modern passenger coach. It has a seating capacity of 40 passengers, is equipped with airbrakes and can develop a speed of 45 miles an hour. It will be used between Fargo and Lisbon to supplement the steam train schedule, running at hours to permit its patrons in towns along the line to make the trip to Fargo and return at convenient hours.

Eugene Debts Protests To Lenine Against Execution of Socialists

(By United Press.)
Chicago, July 27.—Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, has dispatched a cable from his sick bed here to Soviet Premier Lenine protesting against the execution of 22 members of the social revolutionary party now on trial in Moscow.

The defendants are charged with conspiring against the soviet government. Although their trial is still in progress, Debs was informed that their conviction and execution is certain because the tribunal consists entirely of communists.

the United Mine Workers that will bring the strike to a close.

These mines employ 7,200 men, and control a daily production of 32,000 tons.

District Convention Abandoned

St. Louis, Mo., July 27.—Hopes of quickly settling the Illinois miners strike faded today when Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners union, announced abandonment of the district convention called to meet at Peoria August 13.

Ohio Operators Ask Lewis to Call Conference

Cleveland, July 27.—Ohio operators today asked John L. Lewis, miners chief, to call a nation-wide conference of coal operators and union chiefs for Cleveland Saturday in an effort to end the coal strike.

Would Not Make National Agreement

Terre Haute, Ind., July 27.—Alfred M. Ogla, president of the Indiana coal operators association, today declared he Indiana mine owners would refuse to make any interstate agreement to end the strike. His statement contradicted an announcement by Governor McCray that the Hoosier operators would enter into interstate conferences.

Miners Have Won Says Lewis

Philadelphia, July 27.—"The miners have won the strike," John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared this afternoon. "The victory has been acknowledged by the leading financial interests throughout the country," Lewis continued.

"The next move is to call a general conference in the central competitive fields. This will be issued in the next few days."

"The miners will not receive a wage reduction," Lewis declared. "They will return to the pits at the same wages that they received when they marched out on April 1."

MOONSHINE KING OF KINGSDALE, IS INTERVIEWED

ADVISES NEWSPAPER MAN TO KEEP TO MAIN ROADS ELSE HE MIGHT BE TAKEN FOR DEER

(By United Press.)
Kingsdale, Minn., July 27.—The king of Kingsdale moonshiners is here. He can sit in his place of business and keep an eye on Charles R. Grace, who has fought for three years to stop moonshining and bootlegging.

Grace and his family can make but few moves that will not be observed by at least one of the band that has burned his lumber camps, dynamited his hotel and shot up the town.

Two deputy sheriffs have been placed on guard here in front of the Grace hotel with orders from Sheriff Hawley to "shoot to kill" in case any more attacks are perpetrated.

The deputies have established a deadline in the middle of the street which divides the Grace hotel from the outlaw citizenry.

The United Press correspondent expressed to the "king"—a big, boney Swede—a desire to meet some of the gang and get their side of the story.

"If you are going to ramble around here you had better keep on the main roads and away from the creek, or you might be taken for a deer," said the "king."

It is plain that Grace, who owns the townsite and most of the land about here, wants to have things peaceful. The situation has gotten beyond his control, and federal authorities have promised to do these three things:

1. Secure evidence against the dynamiters and prosecute them.
2. Seize stills that are making moonshine and arrest the operator.
3. Investigate local conditions involving the settlement postoffice.

It was learned that a large amount of moonshine made in this vicinity is going into the Twin Cities by automobile. Federal authorities said they know the former Minneapolis real estate dealer and former preacher who is handling most of the output there.

The "king" left Kingsdale for Minneapolis today, on what mission he would not say.

Yesterday afternoon the United Press correspondent from a reasonable distance saw the rendezvous of the gang of moonshiners which have terrorized the village.

Hidden away in a dry run eleven miles south and slightly east of Kingsdale in the Wisconsin hills on the St. Croix river, the band has set up a temporary camp which is closely guarded.

They do not disturb persons canoeing or boating on the river unless they look suspicious, and that appeared to be the easiest way to get a lineup on their location.

Hourly they wait with deer rifles ready for the "round up" by federal, state and county officials which has been heralded as coming as a result of their last raid on Kingsdale.

Arrival of an automobile in that section was heralded in advance by the moonshiners secret service—a system which puzzles county authorities. It is impossible for a machine to leave any of the towns on roads leading to Kingsdale without the knowledge of the moonshiners. In town the stranger is greeted with surly looks and pointed questions as to his business, his destination and the time he expects to spend there. Warnings are conveyed in subtle ways. As one supposedly neutral citizen said: "Be careful, you might be mistaken for a deer."

In company with one of those Kingsdallians who has not been swayed by threats of death, some prospecting was done in the heavy woods on the far edge of the heavy timber surrounding Kingsdale. Ten miles out we ran across a moonshine plant. Some 250 feet away a person could not see the little shack which houses the still. Luckily, the place was deserted and gave evidence of having been abandoned hurriedly. In the shack was a complete moonshine making equipment, but only a small amount of mash, the most of which had been dumped. It was cold.

Farther along we came to another hangout of the gang.

Two log cabins, evidently of considerable age, were hidden in the pine hills across Tamarack creek, with a burley lumberjack seated outside of one of the cabins.

The lumberjack was holding a large rifle across his knees.

Gustaf Ristrom came from Kingsdale today to protest against the ignominy heaped upon his town.

"Kingsdale is a law abiding community," Ristrom told Governor Preus. "The dynamiting didn't do much damage to the Grace hotel, and this fellow Charles R. Grace wants to run everything."

Ristrom is an ex-preacher and real estate dealer.

F. B. Quale, prohibition enforcement officer, said he had heard of Ristrom.

"No arrests will be made without evidence to support the charges," he said.

BIG YIELD OF SPRING WHEAT IS CERTAIN IN N. D.

HARVESTING IS UNDER WAY IN SOME SECTIONS—QUALITY WILL BE FINE

(By United Press.)
Minneapolis, July 27.—With the first cutting of spring wheat in North Dakota, grain men here feel certain of a big yield.

Within ten days the harvest will be on in full swing.

Harvesting is already well under way in southern Minnesota and sections in the Dakotas. The first car of South Dakota wheat to sell on the market here went at near top price for No. 1 dark northern spring.

Danger of black rust has practically disappeared.

While the crop probably will not be a record quantity, the quality will be far above the average, it was said. Grain men believe Minnesota and the Dakotas will have more top grade wheat this year than ever before.

The yield is uniform, heads being short, but evenly filled.

SLAYER OF SISTER SAYS SHE DID RIGHT

(By United Press.)
New York, July 27.—Cursed by his wife who said his days were numbered because of his unfaithfulness, John Reiser, sportsman, today mournfully planned the funeral of his affinity, Miss Bertha Katz.

The wife, Mrs. Minnie Reiser, in jail charged with slaying her young and pretty sister whom she charged with stealing her husband's love, heaped invectives upon the dead Bertha and Reiser.

"I did right," she said.

Hoboes Will Form Lobby

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 27.—Hoboes of America are going into politics.

A "hoboe lobby" to be known by the more modern term of "legislative committee"—soon will take its place with the social, labor, farm, railroad, shipping, tariff and other so-called lobbies.

The purpose of the lobby will be to secure for the unemployed of the nation, government unemployment insurance of at least $1.00 a day.

James Eads Howe, "millionaire hoboe," and leader of the boys of the road, is back of the movement, and will form the "hoboes legislative committee" here tonight, he said.

ALMOST TROPICAL IS WONDER VALLEY IN THE FAR NORTH

WIDE RIVERS OF HOT WATER FED BY BOILING SPRINGS

Edmonton, Alta., July 27.—Out of the great mysterious and unexplored Canadian Northwest comes a tale of an almost tropical valley in the sub-Arctic region where boiling springs pour from the ground and abnormal vegetation, attracting thousands of game animals, make a veritable hunters' Paradise.

The story of this paradoxical valley, which rivals the creation of the fiction writer, was brought here by Frank Perry, mining engineer of Vancouver, B. C., who recently returned from a 17-year prospecting trip into the immense unknown territory in far Northern British Columbia, near the Yukon boundary.

Perry declined to disclose the exact location of this wonder valley, but said that it is somewhere near the Yukon border. He said the place was rich in minerals, gold, silver and copper being found close together, with great outcroppings of coal and iron ore.

Big Iron and Coal Seams
One coal seam, the prospector said, was 800 feet across the strike, while an iron seam ran about 200 feet thick as far as he could judge by a cursory examination.

Perry is now on his way back to the country where the valley is located, and, before his departure, said he expected to return in about a year with news that would astonish the continent.

The valley, Perry said, was about 200 miles long and about forty miles wide, and through it ran wide rivers of hot water fed by hundreds of boiling springs. The vicinity, dark with vegetation of abnormal growth, abounds with animal life, he said, and many of the moose, deer and fur bearing animals were so tame he was able to walk among them as they fed. Due to the exceptionally good grazing, Perry said, the moose and deer looked like old Norman pictures of horses—almost square with fat.

Indians Keep Away
The valley is never visited by Indians, he said, their superstitious nature keeping them away because they believe huge prehistoric monsters whose three-toed imprints are found in the sandstone and shale, still roam that country.

Describing the remarkable growth of vegetable life in the valley, Perry said ordinary wild rose bushes were like trees, with stems as thick as a man's forearm and so dense that it was impossible to force a way thru them, while marsh willows grow to tree size, with some of the trunks a foot and a half in diameter.

Birch trees, the engineer said, grow to a height of 700 feet, and for some unexplained reason bent over and almost touched the ground, while the grasses and shrubs common to the north country were of unusual size.

There is no frost in the valley during the severe northern winters, the engineer said, because of the boiling springs. Remarkable aside from the natural wonder reported by Perry is the story of his seventeen years of wandering in the fastness of the barren north with only two sled-dogs as companions. Following the tactics of the Indians, the lone traveler lived solely on moose meat, never saw a newspaper and received mail only at intervals of several years.

Trade Tour

Fargo, July 27.—A trade caravan composed of Fargo business men left for their territory in the southwestern part of the state today.

The tour, under the auspices of the Farm Manufacturers' association and the Fargo Commercial club, will last two days. Next week they go north. Forty-six towns will be visited.

SCHALL WANTS DIRECT PRIMARY EXTENDED TO OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 27.—The direct primary system for some powerful political personages would abandon the state and congressional election and would extend so that candidates for president and vice-president would be nominated by a straight vote of the people, under a bill which Representative Schall, blind congressman from Minnesota, announced today he would present for discussion in the house.

Schall, one of the leaders of the "progressive wing" in the house, said he would lead a fight against the enemies of the "direct primary system" with the idea of "giving them a dose of their own medicine and strip them still further of their power."

TWO MEN CONFESS TO HEARTLESS AUTO ACCIDENT

(By United Press.)
Chicago, July 27.—Leo Rubin and George Kuznikey were being held here today after police declared they had confessed to "the most atrocious automobile crime in recent history."

The two men were alleged to have run down and mortally wounded 11-year-old Edwin Fell. After learning of the boy's condition, they left him by the side of the road where he was found several hours later.

Rubin and Kuznikey were arrested in connection with the running down and killing of William Peterson on the same night that Fell was killed. The men were arrested at Davenport, Iowa.

YEGGS BLOW BANK SAFE: LOOT SMALL

(By United Press.)
Hollabird, S. D., July 27.—Yeggs who blew the safe and wrecked the State bank here Wednesday, obtained less than $1,000 in cash, the cashier said today.

Papers worth several thousands of dollars, some of which are negotiable, were also taken.

A posse searched all day Wednesday, but found no trace of the yeggs up to a late hour last night.

MAY EXTEND FUEL RATIONING TO THE MIDWEST TERRITORY

(By United Press.)
Washington, July 27.—The sweeping orders of the interstate commerce commission to control the distribution and prices of fuel, food and other necessities, may be extended to the territory between the Mississippi river and the Rocky Mountains, according to authoritative information here today.

EUROPE WILL BUY 100,000,000 BUSHEL OF WHEAT OF U. S.

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, July 27.—Europe will buy 100,000,000 bushels of American wheat this year, according to Fred L. Jeklin, middle west sales manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers' association. This is equal to the estimated total production of North Dakota. Jeklin arrived from London to take charge of the sales organization here.

ELOPING BRIDEGROOM IS SHOT AND KILLED

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, July 27.—A reconciliation of elopers and the bride's parents was blighted here last night by the murder of the bridegroom.

Idacio Buggea was shot and killed at the home of Charles Hilome, his father-in-law, by a man said to have been engaged in business dealings with Buggea. The slayer escaped.

London, July 27.—Two thousand live baby pheasants, just out of the incubator, were flown from London to Paris today.

PRESIDENT HARDING MAKING EFFORT TO SETTLE RAIL STRIKE

CONFERS FIRST WITH RAIL EXECUTIVES AND THEN UNION CHIEFS

WITH THESE AND OTHER CONFERENCES HOPES TO EVOLVE PEACE TERMS

(By United Press.)
Peace prospects in both the coal and rail tieups, were brighter today with favorable reports received from conferences at Washington and Philadelphia.

Indications that settlement of the anthracite strike is near, were current as John L. Lewis met with the miners' chiefs in the Quaker City.

"All miners will be back in the pits within 30 days," was the optimistic prediction of John Hessler, of Terre Haute and miners representative.

Gathering of shopmen's representatives and railroad executives in Washington restored average hopes of a settlement of the rail walkout.

President Harding, who conferred with the president of the American Association of Railway Executives this morning, is embarking on a series of conferences which he hopes will make possible a concrete step toward peace.

Reports from Pennsylvania were that no more troops will be sent into the bituminous fields.

Union Chiefs Go to Washington

Chicago, July 27.—It was quiet here today as representatives of the opposing factions in the rail war gathered in Washington for another peace parley.

Shrouded in the utmost secrecy, Bert M. Jewell and the chiefs of the six shop men unions departed for Washington. Headquarters of the shop men here had nothing to say regarding the new attempt to settle the strike.

"They are only kidding themselves," one union official declared, referring to the statement of the western executives that transportation conditions are normal.

"We won't make any formal statement to the executives' claims. It is unnecessary. The traveling public knows that scores of trains have been discontinued, and those operating are running hours behind schedule."

It was still a mystery whether the union chiefs went to Washington at the invitation of the president, or on their own initiative. Their plans were kept in complete mystery, and it was not until they had been gone several hours that the news leaked out.

Three Rail Officials Beaten

Milwaukee, July 27.—Three officials of the Northwestern road were attacked by unidentified men here last night, and two badly beaten when leaving their work, according to a report to the police.

President Learns Terms

Washington, July 27.—President Harding today in a new attempt to erminate the rail strike, obtained factions the terms upon which the from the two leaders of the warring dispute, which is daily growing more menacing, could be settled.

First the executive held a lengthy conference with T. Dewitt Cuyler, president of the American Association of Railway Executives, which represents all the railroads involved in the strike.

Then he summoned Bert M. Jewell, leader of the striking shop men.

With these and other conferences which may be held, the executive hopes to evolve a concrete plan for the restoration of peace and normal conditions on the nation's railroads.

Intimations that the president might endeavor to arrange a peace conference.

Edmonton, Alta., July 27.—Out of the great mysterious and unmapped Canadian Northwest comes a tale of an almost tropical valley in the sub-Arctic region where boiling springs pour from the ground and abnormal vegetation, attracting thousands of game animals, make a veritable hunters' Paradise.

The story of this paradoxical valley, which rivals the creation of the fiction writer, was brought here by Frank Perry, mining engineer of Vancouver, B. C., who recently returned from a 17-year prospecting trip into the immense unknown territory in far Northern British Columbia, near the Yukon boundary.

Perry declined to disclose the exact location of this wonder valley, but said that it is somewhere near the Yukon border. He said the place was rich in minerals, gold, silver and copper being found close together, with great outcroppings of coal and iron ore.

Big Iron and Coal Seams One coal seam, the prospector said, was 800 feet across the strike, while an iron seam ran about 200 feet thick as far as he could judge by a cursory examination.

Perry is now on his way back to the country where the valley is located, and, before his departure, said he expected to return in about a year with news that would astonish the continent.

The valley, Perry said, was about 200 miles long and about forty miles wide, and through it ran wide rivers of hot water fed by hundreds of boiling springs. The vicinity, dark with vegetation of abnormal growth, abounds with animal life, he said, and many of the moose, deer and fur bearing animals were so tame he was able to walk among them as they fed. Due to the exceptionally good grazing, Perry said, the moose and deer looked like old Norman pictures of horses—almost square with fat.

Indians Keep Away The valley is never visited by Indians, he said, their superstitious nature keeping them away because they believe huge prehistoric monsters whose three-toed imprints are found in the sandstone and shale, still roam that country.

Describing the remarkable growth of vegetable life in the valley, Perry said ordinary wild rose bushes were like trees, with stems as thick as a man's forearm and so dense that it was impossible to force a way thru them, while marsh willows grow to tree size, with some of the trunks a foot and a half in diameter.

Birch trees, the engineer said, grow to a height of 700 feet, and for some unexplained reason bent over and almost touched the ground, while the grasses and shrubs common to the north country were of unusual size.

There is no frost in the valley during the severe northern winters, the engineer said, because of the boiling springs. Remarkable aside from the natural wonder reported by Perry is the story of his seventeen years of wandering in the fastness of the barren north with only two sled dogs as companions. Following the tactics of the Indians, the lone traveler lived solely on moose meat, never saw a newspaper and received mail only at intervals of several years.

Trade Tour

Fargo, July 27.—A trade caravan composed of Fargo business men left for their territory in the southwestern part of the state today.

The tour, under the auspices of the Farm Manufacturers' association and the Fargo Commercial club, will last two days. Next week they go north. Forty-six towns will be visited.

SCHALL WANTS DIRECT PRIMARY EXTENDED TO OFFICE OF PRESIDENT

(By United Press.) Washington, July 27.—The direct primary system for some powerful political personages would abandon the state and congressional election and would extend so that candidates for president and vice-president would be nominated by a straight vote of the people, under a bill which Representative Schall, blind congressman from Minnesota, announced today he would present for discussion in the house.

Schall, one of the leaders of the "progressive wing" in the house, said he would lead a fight against the enemies of the "direct primary system" with the idea of "giving them a dose of their own medicine and strip them still further of their power."

TWO MEN CONFESS TO HEARTLESS AUTO ACCIDENT

(By United Press.) Chicago, July 27.—Leo Rubin and George Kuzniksky were being held here today after police declared they had confessed to "the most atrocious automobile crime in recent history."

The two men were alleged to have run down and mortally wounded 11-year-old Edwin Fell. After learning of the boy's condition, they left him by the side of the road where he was found several hours later.

Rubin and Kuzniksky were arrested in connection with the running down and killing of William Peterson on the same night that Fell was killed.

The men were arrested at Davenport, Iowa.

YEGGS BLOW BANK SAFE: LOOT SMALL

(By United Press.) Hollabird, S. D., July 27.—Yeggs who blew the safe and wrecked the State bank here Wednesday, obtained less than $1,000 in cash, the cashier said today.

Papers worth several thousands of dollars, some of which are negotiable, were also taken.

A posse searched all day Wednesday, but found no trace of the yeggs up to a late hour last night.

MAY EXTEND FUEL RATIONING TO THE MIDWEST TERRITORY

(By United Press.) Washington, July 27.—The sweeping orders of the interstate commerce commission to control the distribution and prices of fuel, food and other necessities, may be extended to the territory between the Mississippi river and the Rocky Mountains, according to authoritative information here today.

EUROPE WILL BUY 100,000,000 BUSHEL OF WHEAT OF U. S.

(By United Press.) St. Paul, July 27.—Europe will buy 100,000,000 bushels of American wheat this year, according to Fred L. Jeklin, middle west sales manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers' association. This is equal to the estimated total production of North Dakota. Jeklin arrived from London to take charge of the sales organization here.

ELOPING BRIDEGROOM IS SHOT AND KILLED

(By United Press.) Cleveland, July 27.—A reconciliation of elopers and the bride's parents was blighted here last night by the murder of the bridegroom.

Idacio Buggea was shot and killed at the home of Charles Hilome, his father-in-law, by a man said to have been engaged in business dealings with Buggea. The slayer escaped.

London, July 27.—Two thousand live baby pheasants, just out of the incubator, were flown from London to Paris today.

PRESIDENT HARDING MAKING EFFORT TO SETTLE RAIL STRIKE

CONFERS FIRST WITH RAIL EXECUTIVES AND THEN UNION CHIEFS

WITH THESE AND OTHER CONFERENCES HOPES TO EVOLVE PEACE TERMS

(By United Press.) Peace prospects in both the coal and rail tieups, were brighter today with favorable reports received from conferences at Washington and Philadelphia.

Indications that settlement of the anthracite strike is near, were current as John L. Lewis met with the miners' chiefs in the Quaker City.

"All miners will be back in the pits within 30 days," was the optimistic prediction of John Hessler, of Terre Haute and miners representative.

Gathering of shopmen's representatives and railroad executives in Washington restored average hopes of a settlement of the rail walkout.

President Harding, who conferred with the president of the American Association of Railway Executives this morning, is embarking on a series of conferences which he hopes will make possible a concrete step toward peace.

Reports from Pennsylvania were that no more troops will be sent into the bituminous fields.

Union Chiefs Go to Washington

Chicago, July 27.—It was quiet here today as representatives of the opposing factions in the rail war gathered in Washington for another peace parley.

Shrouded in the utmost secrecy, Bert M. Jewell and the chiefs of the six shop men unions departed for Washington. Headquarters of the shop men here had nothing to say regarding the new attempt to settle the strike.

"They are only kidding themselves," one union official declared, referring to the statement of the western executives that transportation conditions are normal.

"We won't make any formal statement to the executives' claims. It is unnecessary. The traveling public knows that scores of trains have been discontinued, and those operating are running hours behind schedule."

It was still a mystery whether the union chiefs went to Washington at the invitation of the president, or on their own initiative. Their plans were kept in complete mystery, and it was not until they had been gone several hours that the news leaked out.

Three Rail Officials Beaten

Milwaukee, July 27.—Three officials of the Northwestern road were attacked by unidentified men here last night, and two badly beaten when leaving their work, according to a report to the police.

President Learns Terms

Washington, July 27.—President Harding today in a new attempt to eradicate the rail strike, obtained factions the terms upon which the from the two leaders of the warring dispute, which is daily growing more menacing, could be settled.

First the executive held a lengthy conference with T. Dewitt Cuyler, president of the American Association of Railway Executives, which represents all the railroads involved in the strike.

Then he summoned Bert M. Jewell, leader of the striking shop men.

With these and other conferences which may be held, the executive hopes to evolve a concrete plan for the restoration of peace and normal conditions on the nation's railroads.

Intimations that the president might endeavor to arrange a peace conference. (Continued on Page 6)

A WONDERFUL FUTURE

A. M. Opsahl Comments on Advantages Brainerd and Crow Wing County Reveal In

"A wonderful future is in store for Brainerd and Crow Wing county owing to its natural geographical location," said A. M. Opsahl. "We are situated in the midst of an agricultural country where clover and cows should be the pass word, as our country is especially adapted for dairying.

"Then we have a wonderful asset in our lake region, being the gateway to Northern Minnesota with its thousands of lakes and forests. The eyes of the country are on Minnesota and its beautiful lakes more than it has ever been before, as people from all sections of the country are streaming into our neighboring lakes, building homes, and spending their good money. Today we boast of a community there of ten new summer homes averaging about one thousand dollars a piece. A conservative estimate of the number of cottages being built within a radius of twenty-five miles of Brainerd this season would be about 150.

"The highway system of good roads is developing this section of the state to such an extent that we hardly can keep abreast of the times. We have yet about 14,000,000 acres of cut-over and swamp land in the state of Minnesota. About 85 per cent of this is north of Brainerd, drawing a line across the state right where Brainerd is now situated, which land has been pronounced by the best experts to be the most valuable land laying out doors."

BUSH HELPS LAND VICTORY FOR YANKS

St. Louis, July 27—Staging rallies in the eighth and ninth innings, in which they scored eight runs, the New York Yankees batted a trio of St. Louis pitchers hard and evened the series by defeating the Browns 11 to 6. "Babe" Ruth knocked out his sixteenth and seventeenth home runs of the season in the game which was a pitcher's battle until the seventh inning when the locals batted Hoyt out of the box and scored five runs. Bush succeeded Hoyt and shut off any more runs. Wright held the visitors to five hits until he was taken out for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Facts About Bees.

A Belgian scientist found that a bee, weight for weight, is thirty times as strong as a horse. The female bee has a set of waistcoat pockets. When she is engaged in making the cells of the honeycomb, tiny flakes of wax are secreted in these little pouches, from which they are removed by her with her jaws, as needed.

BETTERMENTS ASKED ON ALL 7,000 MILES

STATE HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS BIG BUT CANNOT BE FILLED UNTIL FUNDS COME IN

Swept out by a terrific cloud-burst in the north shore of Lake Superior recently, six miles of trunk highway No. 1 were rebuilt, bridges and all, in less than 48 hours, but about the same time a 10-mile section of the trunk route system disappeared completely and cannot be restored.

The announcement in the bulletin of the Minnesota highway department adds the explanation that the 10-mile stretch was the last remaining section on the 7,000-mile system that some community or organization had not urged previously for immediate improvement of one kind or another.

"I had an impression that the demand for improvements covered 100 per cent of the system earlier in the season," responded Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, when the appeal for betterment on the last 10 mile gap previously overlooked was announced by John H. Hallen, assistant commissioner and chief highway engineer.

The humorous side is pointed out in Low Commissioner Babcock could order the whole system built and rebuilt without even leaving his office, if necessary funds were only available. Delegations from every part of the state file into highway headquarters in St. Paul day after day, it is said, with propositions taking great or small amounts, but almost every one a sum that "never will be missed from the big trunk highway fund for the year."

"But people generally are inclined to be reasonable, especially when they stop to think that there are nearly 1,500 towns and cities and 86 big counties in the state and one about as anxious as another for early highway improvements in its own locality, and as long as they are reasonable, surely this department has no ground to complain," according to a quotation from Commissioner Babcock.

EARLY to bed, early to rise, stick to your business and advertise.

BETTERMENTS ASKED
ON ALL 7,000 MILESSTATE HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS
BIG BUT CANNOT BE FILLED
UNTIL FUNDS COME IN

Swept out by a terrific cloud-burst on the north shore of Lake Superior recently, six miles of trunk highway
No. 1 were rebuilt, bridges and all, in less than 48 hours, but about the same time a 10-mile section of the trunk route system disappeared completely and cannot be restored.

The announcement in the bulletin of the Minnesota highway department adds the explanation that the 10-mile stretch was the last remaining section on the 7,000-mile system that some community or organization had not urged previously for immediate improvement of one kind or another.

"I had an impression that the demand for improvements covered 100 per cent of the system earlier in the season," responded Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, when the appeal for betterment on the last 10 mile gap previously overlooked was announced by John H.
Mullen, assistant commissioner and chief highway engineer.

The humorous side is pointed out in low Commissioner Babcock could order the whole system built and rebuilt without even leaving his office, if necessary funds were only available. Delegations from every part of the state file into highway headquarters in St.
Paul day after day, it is said, with propositions taking great or small amounts, but almost every one a sum that "never will be missed from the big trunk highway fund for the year."
"But people generally are inclined to be reasonable, especially when they stop to think that there are nearly 1,500 towns and cities and 86 big counties in the state and one about as anxious as another for early highway improvements in its own locality,
and as long as they are reasonable,
surely this department has no ground to complain," according to a quotation from Commissioner Babcock.

MINNESOTA STATE FEDERATION LABOR

P. T. Brown, Vice President of Association, Gives Report of the Crookston Convention

REPORTS TO LABOR ASSEMBLY

Progress and Extension of Economic and Industrial Freedom for the Workers Was Keynote

AFTERNOON SESSION, JULY 17th.

The chairman called the convention to order promptly at two o'clock. Report of committee on rules and order of business was submitted, which was adopted after a slight amendment was made postponing the limit within which resolutions may be presented to the convention.

Delegate Fullerton, of Minneapolis, asked for the floor which was granted. He announced that a joint picnic had been arranged for by the St. Paul and Minneapolis branches of the Trades and Labor Assembly. The proceeds of which was to be equally divided between the striking railroad workers and Russian relief. He also stated that Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota, and Smith Brokheart of Iowa, would speak, and an effort was being made to get Senator Robert La Follette to speak at the picnic. He asked that the secretary of the Federation be instructed to send an invitation to Mr. LaFollette. The picnic is to be held at Midway on July 30th. On motion the secretary of the Federation was so instructed.

J. P. Gardner, secretary of the State Industrial Commission, made a very comprehensive report of the work of the commission to the convention, his report was full of facts and statistics. A number of questions were asked Mr. Gardner by the delegates regarding the operation of the compensation law as it at present exists and inquiring if the commission was going to propose any changes. Mr. Gardner answered the questions very fully, explaining that the commission was ready at all times to take under advisement any change that might make the law more operative and of benefit to the workers. He asked that every delegate from the different sections of the state give their full co-operation to the commission in this matter, and closed by saying "You need the commission and commission needs you."

The president then introduced Paul J. Smith, general organizer of the A. F. of L. and personal representative of Samuel Gompers to the convention. Mr. Smith gave an inspiring and instructive address. He told of the struggles of labor during the past few years, dwelt to some length on the coal strike situation. He discussed the railroad strike and said that there is an organized conspiracy among the large business interests of the country to destroy the labor movement. He stated that there were forces within our organization, both industrial and political, that were contributing their share to try and destroy organized labor. Mr. Smith admitted that labor has passed and is at present passing through strenuous times and has suffered greatly bearing many scars, but he deprecated the idea that labor has suffered any real disastrous defeats but had come through it all magnificently. He rebuked those who dared to attempt to bring new and destructive methods into the movement and that if you will notice that many of those who have attempted this are War Babies or Four Year Unionists. Mr. Smith's reference to the work of the farmer and the workers of North Dakota evoked loud applause from the delegates.

The hour of adjournment having been reached the convention adjourned to convene at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

MORNING SESSION, TUESDAY, JULY 18th.

Convention called to order by President Hall at 8:30.

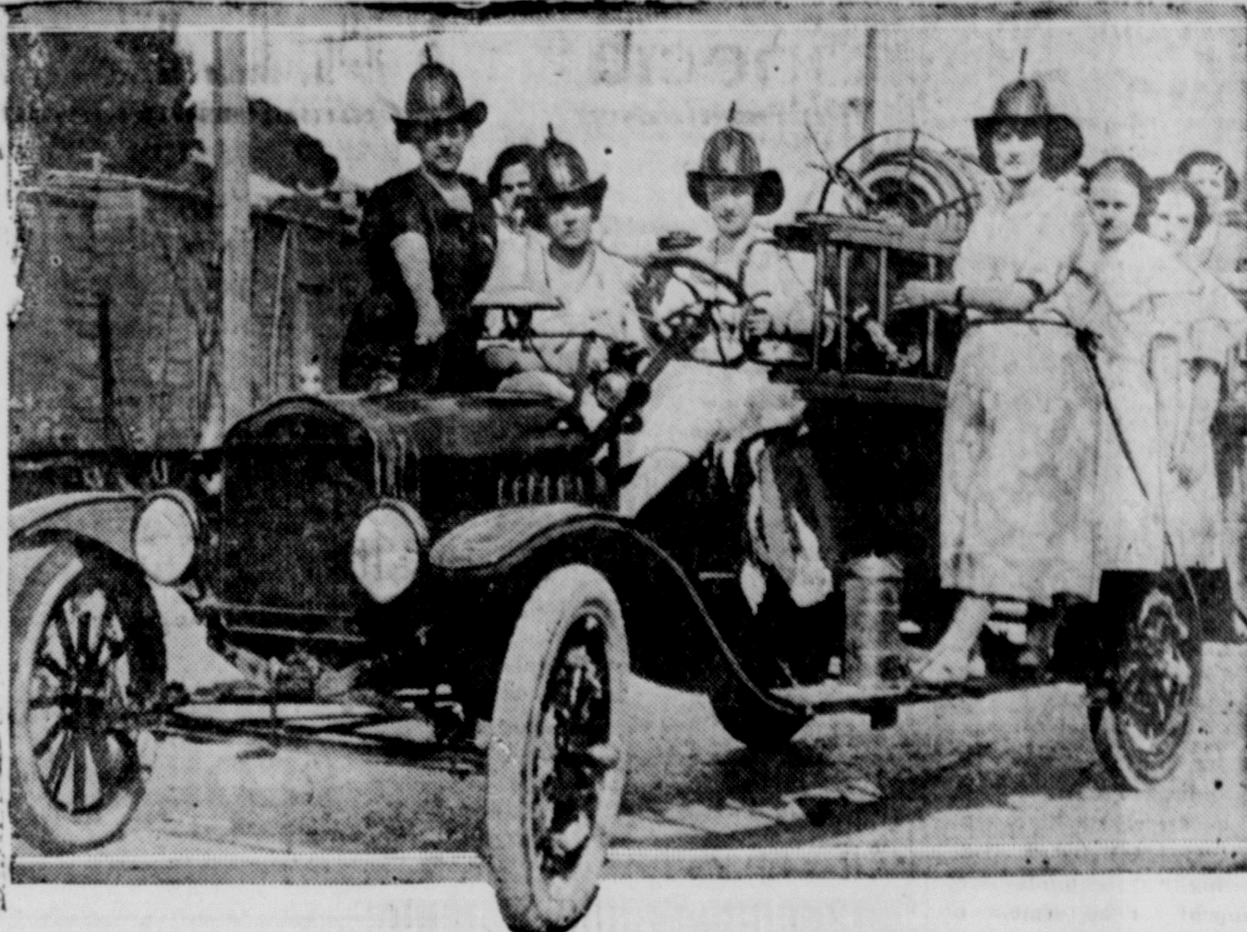

A resolution was presented to the convention on the subject of amalgamation, or industrial unionism. This specific resolution was introduced by Carpenters Local No. 7 of Minneapolis. It called upon the State Federation to petition the American Federation of Labor to call representatives of the various international organizations to get together for the purpose of devising ways and means of organizing the labor movement along industrial lines.

The entire forenoon was set aside by order of the convention for a thorough discussion of this subject as a number of resolutions treating the subject from different angles had been presented to the convention. The committee on organization to which this subject had been referred turned the entire matter back to the convention for its action. After this matter had been discussed in all its phases and aspects, a substitute resolution was introduced by the delegates of the St. Paul Trades and Labor Assembly modifying the original resolution. This substitute resolution instructed the Federation officials to carry on an educational campaign and requested the local unions to confer with each other with a view to devising a practical method of conforming to the industrial principle of organization. The substitute resolution was adopted.

This matter having been satisfactorily settled for the time being, the convention turned to its usual order of business.

A very important resolution on the state constabulary bill introduced by the Police Federation of Minneapolis, received the unanimous standing endorsement of the convention. This subject was discussed by

Here's the reason—the pretty fire crew of Fairfax, Cal., loaded into the fire truck—on dress parade. These fire "boppers" wear silk hose and hair bobbed. When the alarm sounds and duty calls they slide into their boots and slickers and put their helmets on—they are always on guard for fires in the brushwood started by careless campers and hikers on weekends.

Delegate Broderick of the Police Federation, who stated that if the constabulary bill became a law the civil service examinations of the police forces would be wiped out and that the police would become a part of the political machinery of the party in power in the state.

Thomas Van Lear spoke to some length on this matter and commended the address of Pres. E. G. Hall on this subject before the convention of the League of Municipalities. He stated Mr. Hall's address had been printed in pamphlet form and was the greatest treatise on the subject he has ever read, and advised delegates to procure copies and read it. Copies of President Hall's address were distributed among the delegates.

The chair introduced John W. Hays, secretary treasurer of the International Typographical union, who delivered a vigorous address to the convention, stating that his organization had already contributed about $10,000,000 to put the 44-hour week into effect and not a man called out on strike has deserted because the union has made ample provision for their maintenance. He urged all organizations to do likewise and in pointed terms stated that few men would willingly scab if they were secured against want.

AFTERNOON SESSION, JULY 18th

The afternoon session was begun by receiving and assigning resolutions to their proper committees after which the convention was addressed by Mr. C. N. Meserve, regional scout executive. Mr. Meserve, in his appeal for the support of organized labor for the Boy Scout movement of America, stated it was anti-militaristic and sought that the convention investigate its activities. A number of the delegates asked many pointed questions on the subject which Mr. Meserve very readily answered, after which the convention by motion sent the matter to the anti-military committee for their investigation and report, which resulted in that committee reporting that owing to the fact that there was not sufficient time to make a thorough investigation into the subject, they would recommend that the Boy Scout movement be investigated by the local movements and if found to be worthy of support to render same.

Mr. A. W. Awney, president of the North Dakota State Federation of Labor, was introduced to the convention by President Hall. He explained the labor problems of his state and dwelt upon the political situation at some length.

John J. Manning, secretary label department, A. F. of L., addressed the convention on the labor movement in general and particularly on the question of the union label, shop card and button. He issued a challenge that caused considerable merriment. He said he would defy the delegates to the convention to take off the non-union wearing apparel they had on their persons and march down the street dressed in the articles which carried union labels, and he ventured to say there would not be barrels enough in the city to cover their nakedness. The challenge evidently hit home, for many felt convicted for they knew they would be a spectacle dressed in hat, shoes, garters, suspenders, collar, tie or handkerchief.

Mr. Manning presented more novel arguments in favor of the union label than the delegates ever heard before, and if anyone who heard him still feels justified in purchasing non-union goods he should immediately sever his connection with the labor movement.

A very fine report was made by the interim committee appointed at the last convention on the subject of co-operation.

Your representative was surprised when the names of the various co-operative stores were read and given the amount of business done each year by the absence of the Brainerd Co-operative Mercantile Co. I made inquiry into this and was told by Bro. Van Lear, who was chairman of that committee, that a questionnaire had been sent to the Brainerd organization seeking the information and had not been answered.

This should be brought to the attention of the directors of that organization as such reports are a stimulus to the movement.

MORNING SESSION, JULY 19th.

The committee on officers' reports stated they had reviewed the work done by the officers and executive council and commented on their efforts and accomplishments, commended their work and urged a careful reading of the officers reports by delegates and by other members of the labor movement of Minnesota.

The report of committee on building trades based on the data submitted by Secretary Lawson, stated that not much more than fifty percent of the building trades had co-operated with the headquarters to carry out the plan adopted at the Brainerd convention to supply the organizations throughout the state with data regarding conditions and employment. The committee condemned those locals who did not lend their assistance, and suggested that unless a more general response was forthcoming, the plan should be abandoned.

The same experience applied to the metal trades department. The committee having this matter in charge made a similar report and recommended an immediate discontinuance of the plan. The recommendation of the committee was concurred in.

The report of the auditing committee was read by its chairman, Delegate Chalmers, of Duluth. He reported the book of secretary treasurer was in fine condition and commented on the records in a complimentary manner. The report showed a balance on hand June 30th, 1922, of $11,043.45.

The resolution on the modification of the Volstead act caused considerable anxiety among the delegates. There was a general feeling that the introduction of this resolution would cause division and dissension. The resolution submitted was a copy of the one passed by the A. F. of L. convention at Denver, and calls for the manufacture of beer as a wholesome beverage. This resolution came before the convention with the committee's recommendation to concur. Upon presenting the resolution to the convention a motion was moved at once to lay it on the table which was promptly seconded and was put to the delegates without discussion. This motion was overwhelmingly voted down.

Immediately an amendment was offered which provided that the manufacture, sale and dispensing of beer should be a strict government monopoly. The amendment was put without discussion and carried. The resolution as amended was then put before the convention without debate and carried with a large majority.

The committee on anti-militarism rendered a report which put the convention on record as hostile to all forms of military organizations.

The chairman introduced Miss Selma Maximon, representing the Sacco-Vanzetti case. Miss Maximon set forth in a clear manner the facts in the case and asked the moral and financial help for these men.

At this juncture Dr. Henrik Shipstead, candidate for U. S. senator, was introduced by President Hall. Dr. Shipstead is well known to the labor movement, having been a candidate for governor of the state of Minnesota. By a few well selected stories he explained his presence before the convention, then launched into a discussion of the great economic problems which labor and the common people are most interested in. Dr. Shipstead's discourse was very interesting and enjoyed by all.

Secretary Lawson announced that there were 66 resolutions all of which were acted upon. The following is a list of the resolutions presented and how they were disposed of:

1—Recommending that a committee of three be selected in every union for the purpose of education and organization, and making provision for the financing of the work. That the officers of the Federation co-operate in carrying out this program, also requesting the co-operation of the international organizations, adopted.

No. 2—Instructing the officers of the State Federation to render every possible assistance in having prepared a bill providing for a pension for state employees. Adopted.

No. 3—Favoring the Fordney-McCumber adjusted service compensation bill for ex-service men with the amendment that funds for the payment be carried by a tax on excess profits. Adopted.

No. 4—Instructing the officers and executive council to bring before the membership throughout the state the unfair attitude of the wholesale bakeries and urging the purchasing of bread bearing the union label. Adopted.

No. 5—Dealing with the appalling waste in industry as at present organized and instructing the legislative committee to investigate this evil and recommend measures for relief to our various legislatures, city, state and national. Submitted to executive council for their consideration.

No. 6—Calling for six hour day. Not concurred in.

No. 7—Changing the date of meeting of the Federation to the 4th Monday in September. Not concurred in.

No. 8—Instructing the President to appoint each local union secretary as a finance committee to solicit funds and work with the Farmer-Labor campaign committee. Adopted.

No. 9—Calling on the State Federation of Labor to urge the A. F. of L. and the Label Dept., of the A. F. of L. and all their international unions to adopt a uniform label. Adopted.

No. 10—That the officers and delegates of the Federation do everything to promote the organization of Union Label Leagues and carry on an active campaign to promote the union label. Adopted.

No. 11—Calling on the State Federation of Labor to affiliate with the Workers Educational Bureau of America and urge all central labor bodies of the state to do likewise. Adopted.

No. 12—Instructing the delegates to make an effort to have school board and school authorities adopt as part of the school curriculum courses in government and political and social institutions. Adopted.

No. 13—Endorsing a national child labor law by an amendment to the constitution. Adopted.

No. 14—Opposing the reduction of wage schedules of teachers in effect in this state. Adopted.

No. 15—Setting forth the economic needs of Russia and the industrial opportunities of America and requesting the government to recognize the present government of Russia in order that commercial relations may be immediately resumed. Adopted.

No. 16—Favoring the Trade Union National Committee for Russian Relief and urging all unions to affiliate therewith. Adopted.

No. 17—Withdrawn.

No. 18—Favoring state paid old age pensions. Adopted.

No. 19—Favoring industrial unionism. Substitute motion of the same general tenor adopted.

No. 20—Opposing the enactment of a measure or measures enlarging the civil rights of woman, because it would rescind the protective legislation now in effect in the different states. Adopted.

No. 21—Asking the Executive Committee of the A. F. of L. to issue charters direct to groups of women in industry where international organizations decline to accept them into membership.

No. 22—Requesting that a telegram be sent by the State Federation to President Harding urging him to aid the railroad workers in getting more prompt relief from the railroad labor board. Adopted.

No. 23—Opposing the alteration of the present boiler inspection laws of this state. Adopted.

No. 24—Favoring the establishment of state operated and maintained employment agencies. Adopted.

No. 25—Approving the Safety First movement. Adopted.

No. 26—Favoring the establishment of part time courses under certain restrictions. Adopted.

No. 27—Condemning the action of the printing employers who broke their agreement with their employees and pledging the support of the Federation to the Typographical Union in its fight to establish the 41-hour week. Adopted.

No. 28—Calling on all union men and women to assist in the education of the young people along trade union lines and particularly the sons and daughters of organized labor and calling for a closer fraternity among various unions. Adopted.

No. 29—Asking the Federation to take action in appealing the case of Boyeson Co. against the Typographical union and pertaining to the decision of Judge Hanft relative to picketing. This was referred to the Executive Council for further investigation.

No. 30—Increasing the pay of county employees and providing pension for them. Adopted.

No. 31—Providing for the establishment of a committee on Education in all central bodies to bring the labor movement into closer touch with the public school. Adopted.

No. 32—Calling for the modification of the Volstead act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of wholesome beer. Amended so that the government shall have authority to standardize measure and quality, and shall have exclusive right to manufacture and sell. Adopted.

No. 33—Withdrawn.

No. 34—Calling for the amendment of the constitution of the Federation which would provide for the election of delegates to the A. F. of L. from the rank and file, and preclude any official of the Federation drawing a salary therefrom. Lost.

No. 35—Providing for the establishment of metal lockers and sanitary drinking fountains and toilet facilities. Adopted.

No. 36—Urging the enactment of a law which will provide for the adult blind. Adopted.

No. 37—Opposing the establishment of the State Constabulary. Adopted.

No. 38—Calling for the repeal of the Brooks-Coleman Bill. Adopted.

No. 39—Pledging the Federation to carry on an Educational Campaign against militarism in all its forms. Adopted.

No. 40—Providing for the organization of retail clerks in order to promote the sale of union labeled goods. Adopted.

No. 41—Asking for the good offices of the State Federation of Labor to prevent the reduction in wages of the city and county employees in Minneapolis. Adopted.

No. 42—Calling attention to the growing menace due to the usurpation of the supreme court and urging activity to amend the constitution restricting the powers of such court. Adopted.

No. 43—Withdrawn.

No. 44—Amending the constitution so that vice presidents would be elected by the delegates from the respective districts. Lost.

No. 45—Amending Art. 7, Sec. 9 providing for the recall of members of the Executive committee. Referred to Executive committee.

No. 46—Endorsing the amalgamation plan of the Minnesota Railway Shop Crafts. Adopted.

No. 47—For state paid old age pensions. Adopted.

No. 48—Endorsing the action of the United Mine Workers and pledging support of the Federation. Adopted.

No. 49—Supporting civil service system. Adopted.

No. 50—Asking for the recognition of the Mexican government. Adopted.

No. 51—Urging the organization of National Banks by labor unions, farmer organizations, etc. Adopted.

No. 52—Condemning the state and national governments for their failure to give proper protection to the people and pledging support of the organization to the Farmer-Labor Party. Adopted.

No. 53—Condemning public officials and newspaper owners for their failure to give publicity to the brazen robbery of the people and exploitation of the workers by the railroad companies. Adopted.

No. 54—Calling on the Federation to help promote the glove workers union label, and recommending that the officers of the Federation secure a list of union made wearing apparel for women. Adopted.

No. 55—Urging the workers to select public representatives who will carry forward the work of peace instead of that of war and refusing to bear arms, only in case of invasion. Adopted.

No. 56—Demanding a referendum in case of conscription and war. Adopted.

No. 57—Calling on Senator Kellogg to state whether he is for Judge McGee or not. Lost.

No. 58—Calling for the enactment of legislation which will require all people doing electrical work to have a license. Adopted.

No. 59—Calling for a law in municipalities against the use of painting machines when poisonous pigments are used. Adopted.

No. 60—Calling on all members of organized labor to support the Working People's Nonpartisan league and all union to affiliate with it. Adopted.

No. 61—Pertaining to militarism. Withdrawn.

No. 64—Calling for the repeal of the Transportation Act. Adopted.

No. 65—Calling on the courts to mete out the same treatment to the officials of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company for violation of the court's order as is done to union men. Adopted.

No. 66—Urging the Interstate Commerce Commission to enforce the Federal Inspection Laws on railroads. Adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions by action submitted a testimonial of the delegates appreciation of the hospitality of the officers and citizens of Crookston. The resolution was unanimously endorsed by a rising vote.

Nomination for Convention City for 1923 was called for. Communications were read by Sec'y. Lawson from the following cities inviting the convention to hold its sessions in their respective city next year, Bemidji, Faribault and Duluth.

On the first ballot Bemidji was eliminated, and on the second ballot Duluth received 160 votes and Faribault 95 votes. Duluth receiving the highest number of votes was chosen as convention city for 1923.

Thus the entire mass of matters submitted to the convention being

MINNESOTA STATE FEDERATION LABOR

P. T. Brown, Vice President of Association, Gives Report of the Crookston Convention

REPORTS TO LABOR ASSEMBLY

Progress and Extension of Economic and Industrial Freedom for the Workers Was Keynote

AFTERNOON SESSION, JULY 17th.

The chairman called the convention to order promptly at two o'clock. Report of committee on rules and order of business was submitted, which was adopted after a slight amendment was made postponing the limit within which resolutions may be presented to the convention. Delegate Fullerton, of Minneapolis, asked for the floor which was granted. He announced that a joint picnic had been arranged for by the St. Paul and Minneapolis branches of the Trades and Labor Assembly. The proceeds of which was to be equally divided between the striking railroad workers and Russian relief. He also stated that Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota, and Smith Brookheart of Iowa, would speak, and an effort was being made to get Senator Robert La Follette to speak at the picnic. He asked that the secretary of the Federation be instructed to send an invitation to Mr. La Follette. The picnic is to be held at Midway on July 30th. On motion the secretary of the Federation was so instructed.

J. P. Gardner, secretary of the State Industrial Commission, made a very comprehensive report of the work of the commission to the convention, his report was full of facts and statistics. A number of questions were asked Mr. Gardner by the delegates regarding the operation of the compensation law as it at present exists and inquiring if the commission was going to propose any changes. Mr. Gardner answered the questions very fully, explaining that the commission was ready at all times to take under advisement any change that might make the law more operative and of benefit to the workers. He asked that every delegate from the different sections of the state give their full co-operation to the commission in this matter, and closed by saying "You need the commission and commission needs you."

The president then introduced Paul J. Smith, general organizer of the A. F. of L. and personal representative of Samuel Gompers to the convention. Mr. Smith gave an inspiring and instructive address. He told of the struggles of labor during the past few years, dwelt to some length on the coal strike situation. He discussed the railroad strike and said that there is an organized conspiracy among the large business interests of the country to destroy the labor movement. He stated that there were forces within our organization, both industrial and political, that were contributing their share to try and destroy organized labor. Mr. Smith admitted that labor has passed and is at present passing through strenuous times and has suffered greatly bearing many scars, but he deprecated the idea that labor has suffered any real disastrous defeats but had come through it all magnificently. He rebuked those who dared to attempt to bring new and destructive methods into the movement and that if you will notice that many of those who have attempted this are War Babies or Four Year Unionists. Mr. Smith's reference to the work of the farmer and the workers of North Dakota evoked loud applause from the delegates.

The hour of adjournment having been reached the convention adjourned to convene at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

MORNING SESSION, TUESDAY, JULY 18th.

Convention called to order by President Hall at 8:30.

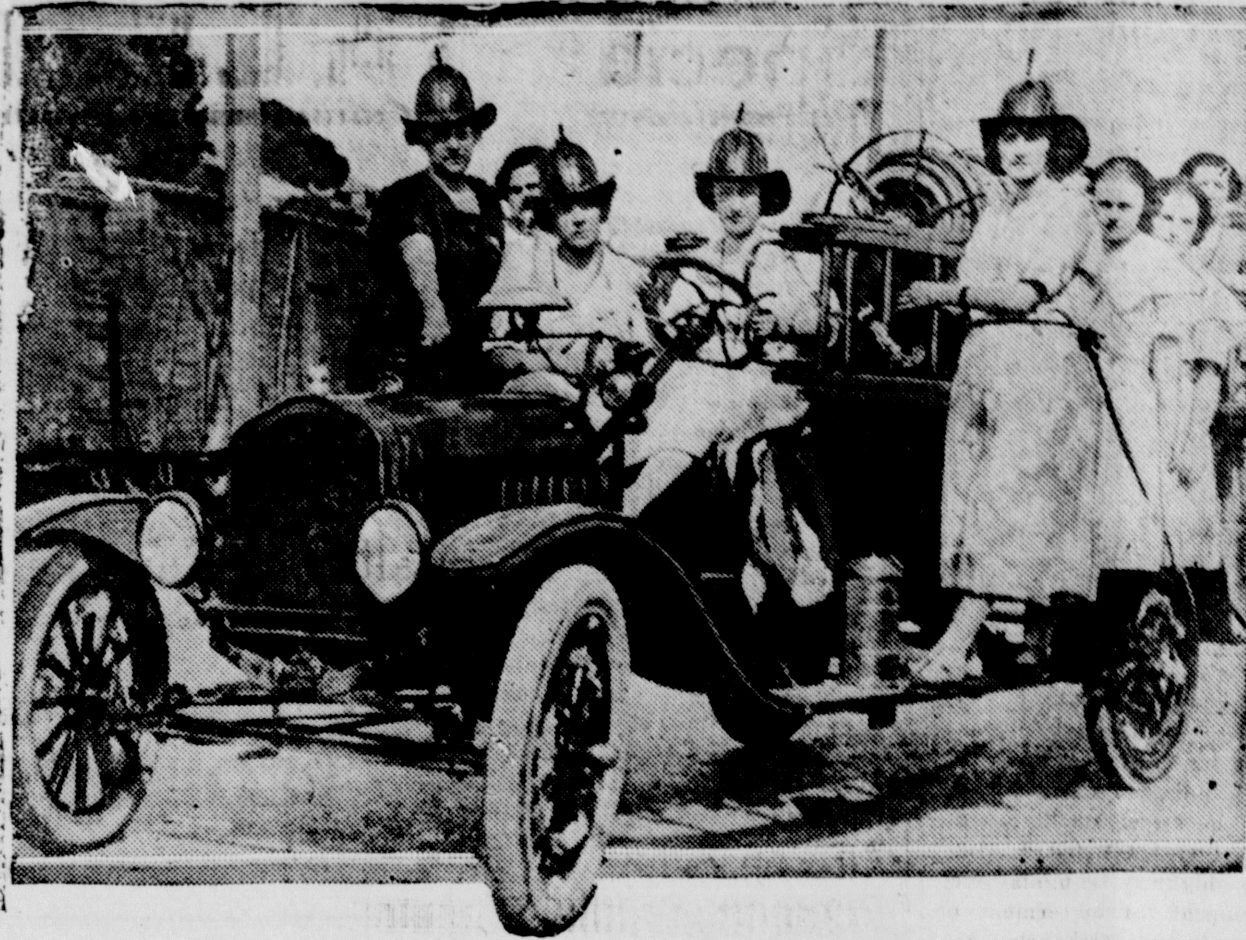

A resolution was presented to the convention on the subject of amalgamation, or industrial unionism. This specific resolution was introduced by Carpenters Local No. 7 of Minneapolis. It called upon the State Federation to petition the American Federation of Labor to call representatives of the various international organizations to get together for the purpose of devising ways and means of organizing the labor movement along industrial lines.

The entire forenoon was set aside by order of the convention for a thorough discussion of this subject as a number of resolutions treating the subject from different angles had been presented to the convention. The committee on organization to which this subject had been referred turned the entire matter back to the convention for its action. After this matter had been discussed in all its phases and aspects, a substitute resolution was introduced by the delegates of the St. Paul Trades and Labor Assembly modifying the original resolution. This substitute resolution instructed the Federation officials to carry on an educational campaign and requested the local unions to confer with each other with a view to devising a practical method of conforming to the industrial principle of organization. The substitute resolution was adopted.

This matter having been satisfactorily settled for the time being, the convention turned to its usual order of business.

A very important resolution on the state constabulary bill introduced by the Police Federation of Minneapolis, received the unanimous standing endorsement of the convention. This subject was discussed by

Here's the reason—the pretty fire crew of Fairfax, Cal., loaded into the fire truck—on dress parade. These fire "hoppers" wear silk hose and hair bobbed. When the alarm sounds and duty calls they slide into their boots and slickers and put their helmets on—they are always on guard for fires in the brushwood started by careless campers and hikers on weekends.

Delegate Broderick of the Police Federation, who stated that if the constabulary bill became a law the civil service examinations of the police forces would be wiped out and that the police would become a part of the political machinery of the party in power in the state.

Thomas Van Lear spoke to some length on this matter and commended the address of Pres. E. G. Hall on this subject before the convention of the League of Municipalities. He stated Mr. Hall's address had been printed in pamphlet form and was the greatest treatise on the subject he has ever read, and advised delegates to procure copies and read it. Copies of President Hall's address were distributed among the delegates.

The chair introduced John W. Hays, secretary treasurer of the International Typographical union, who delivered a vigorous address to the convention, stating that his organization had already contributed about $10,000,000 to put the 44-hour week into effect and not a man called out on strike has deserted because the union has made ample provision for their maintenance. He urged all organizations to do likewise and in pointed terms stated that few men would willingly secede if they were secured against want.

AFTERNOON SESSION, JULY 18th

The afternoon session was begun by receiving and assigning resolutions to their proper committees after which the convention was addressed by Mr. C. N. Meserve, regional scout-executive. Mr. Meserve, in his appeal for the support of organized labor for the Boy Scout movement of America, stated it was anti-militaristic and sought that the convention investigate its activities. A number of the delegates asked many pointed questions on the subject which Mr. Meserve very readily answered, after which the convention by motion sent the matter to the anti-military committee for their investigation and report, which resulted in that committee reporting that owing to the fact that there was not sufficient time to make a thorough investigation into the subject they would recommend that the Boy Scout movement be investigated by the local movements and if found to be worthy of support to render same.

Mr. A. W. Awnay, president of the North Dakota State Federation of Labor, was introduced to the convention by President Hall. He explained the labor problems of his state and dwelt upon the political situation at some length.

John J. Manning, secretary label department, A. F. of L., addressed the convention on the labor movement in general and particularly on the question of the union label, shop card and button. He issued a challenge that caused considerable merriment. He said he would defy the delegates to the convention to take off the non-union wearing apparel they had on their persons and march down the street dressed in the articles which carried union labels, and he ventured to say there would not be barrels enough in the city to cover their nakedness. The challenge evidently hit home, for many felt convicted for they knew they would be a spectacle dressed in hats, shoes, garters, suspenders, collar, tie or handkerchief.

Mr. Manning presented more novel arguments in favor of the union label than the delegates ever heard before, and if anyone who heard him still feels justified in purchasing non-union goods he should immediately sever his connection with the labor movement.

A very fine report was made by the interim committee appointed at the last convention on the subject of co-operation.

Your representative was surprised when the names of the various cooperative stores were read and given the amount of business done each year by the absence of the Brainerd Co-operative Mercantile Co. I made inquiry into this and was told by Bro. Van Lear, who was chairman of that committee, that a questionnaire had been sent to the Brainerd organization seeking the information and had not been answered. This should be brought to the attention of the directors of that organization as such reports are a stimulus to the movement.

MORNING SESSION, JULY 19th.

The committee on officers' reports stated they had reviewed the work done by the officers and executive council and commented on their efforts and accomplishments, commended their work and urged a careful reading of the officers reports by delegates and by other members of the labor movement of Minnesota.

The report of committee on building trades based on the data submitted by Secretary Lawson, stated that not much more than fifty per cent of the building trades had co-operated with the plan adopted at the Brainerd convention to supply the organizations throughout the state with data regarding conditions and employment. The committee condemned those locals who did not lend their assistance, and suggested that unless a more general response was forthcoming, the plan should be abandoned.

The same experience applied to the metal trades department. The committee having this matter in charge made a similar report and recommended an immediate discontinuance of the plan. The recommendation of the committee was concurred in.

The report of the auditing committee was read by its chairman, Delegate Chalmers, of Duluth. He reported the book of secretary-treasurer was in fine condition and commented on the records in a complimentary manner. The report showed a balance on hand June 30th, 1922, of $11,043.45.

The resolution on the modification of the Volstead act caused considerable anxiety among the delegates. There was a general feeling that the introduction of this resolution would cause division and dissension. The resolution submitted was a copy of the one passed by the A. F. of L. convention at Denver, and calls for the manufacture of beer as a whole some beverage. This resolution came before the convention with the committee's recommendation to concur. Upon presenting the resolution to the convention a motion was moved at once to lay it on the table which was promptly seconded and was put to the delegates without discussion. This motion was overwhelmingly voted down.

Immediately an amendment was offered which provided that the manufacture, sale and dispensing of beer should be a strict government monopoly. The amendment was put without discussion and carried. The resolution as amended was then put before the convention without debate and carried with a large majority.

The committee on anti-militarism rendered a report which put the convention on record as hostile to all forms of military organizations.

The chairman introduced Miss Selma Maximon, representing the Sacco-Vanzetti case. Miss Maximon set forth in a clear manner the facts in the case and asked the moral and financial help for these men.

At this juncture Dr. Henrik Shipstead, candidate for U. S. senator, was introduced by President Hall. Dr. Shipstead is well known to the labor movement, having been a candidate for governor of the state of Minnesota. By a few well selected stories he explained his presence before the convention, then launched into a discussion of the great economic problems which labor and the common people are most interested in. Dr. Shipstead's discourse was very interesting and enjoyed by all.

Secretary Lawson announced that there were 66 resolutions all of which were acted upon. The following is a list of the resolutions presented and how they were disposed of:

1.—Recommending that a committee of three be selected in every union for the purpose of education and organization, and making provision for the financing of the work. That the officers of the Federation co-operate in carrying out this program, also requesting the co-operation of the international organizations. Adopted.

No. 2.—Instructing the officers of the State Federation to render every possible assistance in having prepared a bill providing for a pension for state employees. Adopted.

No. 3.—Favoring the Fordney-McCumber adjusted service compensation bill for ex-service men with the amendment that funds for the payment be carried by a tax on excess profits. Adopted.

No. 4.—Instructing the officers and executive council to bring before the membership throughout the state the unfair attitude of the wholesale bakeries and urging the purchasing of bread bearing the union label. Adopted.

No. 5.—Dealing with the appalling waste in industry as at present organized and instructing the legislative committee to investigate this evil and recommend measures for relief to our various legislatures, city, state and national. Submitted to executive council for their consideration. Adopted.

No. 6.—Calling for six hour day. Not concurred in.

No. 7.—Changing the date of meeting of the Federation to the 4th Monday in September. Not concurred in.

No. 8.—Instructing the President to appoint each local union secretary as a finance committee to solicit funds and work with the Farmer-Labor campaign committee. Adopted.

No. 9.—Calling on the State Federation of Labor to urge the A. F. of L. and the Label Dept. of the A. F. of L. and all their international unions to adopt a uniform label. Adopted.

No. 10.—That the officers and delegates of the Federation do everything to promote the organization of Union Label Leagues and carry on an active campaign to promote the union label. Adopted.

No. 11.—Calling on the State Federation of Labor to affiliate with the Workers Educational Bureau of America and urge all central labor bodies of the state to do likewise. Adopted.

No. 12.—Instructing the delegates to make an effort to have school board and school authorities adopt as part of the school curriculum courses in government and political and social institutions. Adopted.

No. 13.—Endorsing a national child labor law by an amendment to the constitution. Adopted.

No. 14.—Opposing the reduction of wage schedules of teachers in effect in this state. Adopted.

No. 15.—Setting forth the economic needs of Russia and the industrial opportunities of America and requesting the government to recognize the present government of Russia in order that commercial relations may be immediately resumed. Adopted.

No. 17.—Withdrawn.

No. 18.—Favoring state paid old age pensions. Adopted.

No. 19.—Favoring industrial unionism. Substitute motion of the same general tenor adopted.

No. 20.—Opposing the enactment of a measure or measures enlarging the civil rights of women, because it would rescind the protective legislation now in effect in the different states. Adopted.

No. 21.—Asking the Executive Committee of the A. F. of L. to issue charters direct to groups of women in industry where international organizations decline to accept them into membership.

No. 22.—Requesting that a telegram be sent by the State Federation to President Harding urging him to aid the railroad workers in getting more prompt relief from the railroad labor board. Adopted.

No. 23.—Opposing the alteration of the present boiler inspection laws of this state. Adopted.

No. 24.—Favoring the establishment of state operated and maintained employment agencies. Adopted.

No. 25.—Approving the Safety First movement. Adopted.

No. 26.—Favoring the establishment of part time courses under certain restrictions. Adopted.

No. 27.—Condemning the action of the printing employers who broke their agreement with their employees and pledging the support of the Federation to the Typographical Union in its fight to establish the 41-hour week. Adopted.

No. 28.—Calling on all union men and women to assist in the education of the young people along trade union lines and particularly the sons and daughters of organized labor and calling for a closer fraternity among various unions. Adopted.

No. 29.—Asking the Federation to take action in appealing the case of Boyeson Co. against the Typographical union and pertaining to the decision of Judge Hanft relative to picketing. This was referred to the Executive Council for further investigation.

No. 30.—Increasing the pay of county employees and providing pension for them. Adopted.

No. 31.—Providing for the establishment of a committee on Education in all central bodies to bring the labor movement into closer touch with the public school. Adopted.

No. 32.—Calling for the modification of the Volstead act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of wholesome beer. Amended so that the government shall have authority to standardize measure and quality, and shall have exclusive right to manufacture and sell. Adopted.

No. 33.—Withdrawn.

No. 34.—Calling for the amendment of the constitution of the Federation which would provide for the election of delegates to the A. F. of L. from the rank and file, and preclude any official of the Federation drawing a salary therefrom. Lost.

No. 35.—Providing for the establishment of metal lockers and sanitary drinking fountains and toilet facilities. Adopted.

No. 36.—Urging the enactment of a law which will provide for the adult blind. Adopted.

No. 37.—Opposing the establishment of the State Constabulary. Adopted.

No. 38.—Calling for the repeal of the Brooks-Coleman Bill. Adopted.

No. 39.—Pledging the Federation to carry on an Educational Campaign against militarism in all its forms. Adopted.

No. 40.—Providing for the organization of retail clerks in order to promote the sale of union labeled goods. Adopted.

No. 41.—Asking for the good offices of the State Federation of Labor to prevent the reduction in wages of the city and county employees in Minneapolis. Adopted.

No. 42.—Calling attention to the growing menace due to the usurpation of the supreme court and urging activity to amend the constitution restricting the powers of such court. Adopted.

No. 43.—Withdrawn.

No. 44.—Amending the constitution so that vice presidents would be elected by the delegates from the respective districts. Lost.

No. 45.—Amending Art. 7, Sec. 9 providing for the recall of members of the Executive committee. Referred to Executive committee.

No. 46.—Endorsing the amalgamation plan of the Minnesota Railway Shop Crafts. Adopted.

No. 47.—For state paid old age pensions. Adopted.

No. 48.—Endorsing the action of the United Mine Workers and pledging support of the Federation. Adopted.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

THE American public does not take kindly to the suggestion that industries be placed under government control. There are many reasons underlying this attitude of the public. In the first place, American industry, with all that it contains of good or ill, has been developed by individual and corporate initiative; and secondly, those things which are within the control of the government are so hampered by official red-tape that efficiency is not expected of them. The introduction of the budget system recently, has led to the saving of millions of dollars which otherwise would have been consumed in needless expenditures. The average man who visits congress and government departments, is disgusted by the waste of time in both. No industry could operate to advantage under the management of the average congress; and congress, functioning as a board of directors of large industrial enterprises, would soon bring them to bankruptcy.

In addition to all this, experiments in government ownership or operation have not been distinctly successful; and whatever persons may think of the political aspirations and movements in Russia, there seems to be no questioning the fact that economically the country has broken down under government control of industry. And, however such facts may be discounted by those who say that Russia has been unable to successfully operate its factories because of the economic boycott instigated by the other nations of the world, people in general will not consider the reasons but will judge by the results. For after all is said, the standard of measurement in the age in which we live is the pragmatic standard which demands that a thing make good. The final question asked of any system or philosophy, government or business or industry, is this: Does it make good?

In the past American industry has met this test. In no country have such results been realized in business and industry as in the United States, and these results have been achieved by private initiative. But—and here lie the only reason for any consideration of government operation—at this time two of the largest industries in America are failing to meet the supreme test, which is the test of making good. At this time neither the coal industry nor the railroad systems are serving the public to the public's satisfaction. And serving the public is the reason for the existence of both. To place the blame for the break-down in providing the public with satisfactory service is beside the mark, for where is the person who would not, if a firm, in explaining faulty service stated, "Our employee's are to blame," ask of the firm, "And who is responsible for your employees?" In the business world reasons for failure are not accepted as an excuse for failure.

Therefore, when such important factors in a nation's life as its fuel producing and transportation enterprises fail to meet the needs of the public the government, representing the public, is required to consider the advisability of operating the mines and the railroads. These public utilities must either find a way to serve the public or the public will find some way to serve itself. The mines must produce and the railroads transport. If they fail to perform their function they have no justification for existence under present management. Excuses are not activities and plausible explanation is not service. If the self appointed servants of the people fail to function the nation must appoint servants who will serve.

BRAINERD'S MUNICIPAL BAND

THE attendance within the limits of Gregory Park every Wednesday evening indicates an appreciation of the program of band music played by the Municipal band. The many cars lined up around the park bear additional testimony to the pleasure Brainerd's citizens get from the weekly band concert.

This weekly musical treat is one of the many things that help to make life in Brainerd supremely worth while. And the conditions in which the music is played add charm to the weekly event. While people in other cities to the south and east are oppressed by the heat of the summer season, the people of Brainerd are afforded the pleasure of listening in comfort to the band concert. The glorious evening and the music laden air combine to make Wednesday evening an occasion of real enjoyment.

There is something about a band that appeals to nature, stirring notes affording a certain excitement, while the subdued strains bring a real tonic to tired and frayed nerves. And there is a cultural value and an esthetic charm to the concert which cannot be over-estimated.

The musicians, who give so many hours of their time to rehearsals, are to be congratulated on their self-denial; as they are to be praised for the splendid concerts they provide for the citizens of Brainerd. It is to be hoped that this civic asset will be so highly valued that a better and more means of providing for its continuance will be found. The support of Brainerd's Municipal band ought not to be left to chance but should be secured by some definite arrangement whereby the needs of the band are fully assured.

How many tourists are there in the lake region north of Brainerd who, to reach their location have passed through Brainerd? is an interesting question. Another question of interest to the business man in the city is: How much business have these tourists done with the business houses of this city? Many and much answer the questions, but not in figures.

THE public has reason to rejoice and be glad that the farmers have not gone on strike. While coal is scarce and trains are few, harvests are abundant. All fair minded people will wish the farmer to have better returns for his labor than last year offered.

THE children of Israel looked forward to the promised land, as Americans of the year 1922 looked forward to the fruits of reconstruction; but in both cases Jordan rolled between.

REGRETS over the speedy flight of summer days are tempered by the announcement that the season of the wood tick's borings is past.

ERA OF PROSPERITY
APPROACHING FAST

"Big Business Men of Our Country Say We are Due for Wonderful Business Revival"

BRAINERD COM'L. COLLEGE

President J. F. Goossen Advises Young Men and Women to Prepare for Business Training

"The big business men of our country say we are approaching a period of wonderful business revival," said J. F. Goossen, head of the Brainerd Commercial College located on the second floor of the city hall.

"Our captains of industry who have their fingers on the pulse of the nation's commerce are preparing for this coming period of prosperity."

"Young men and women can also prepare. While they are building new factories and creating new positions it is up to them to fit themselves to fill these positions. A thorough training, whether in stenography or bookkeeping, together with practical office instruction will put young persons on the road to success."

We stand ready to give you this training. We can give you the kind of instruction and the kind of practice that will enable you to take a position in the business world with perfect confidence. We give you the broad educational foundation upon which you can build a substantial business career. We also put you in touch with business opportunities. You get ready. We get you the position."

Purpose of School

"It is the purpose of this school to prepare young men and women to meet the demand of the business world. When a new demand occurs we prepare them to meet it. A new demand has occurred. To meet it we have established a department for training operators of bookkeeping, calculating and posting machines. This department has been equipped with a modern Burroughs adding and posting machine."

"Our 20th Century method of teaching bookkeeping and accounting is considered the most modern by all authorities. Not a thing is left to your imagination but all business forms that you will ever be called upon to use in any office are part and parcel of this course. Part I of this course is the individual set, Part II deals in partnership, Part III teaches corporation bookkeeping, Part IV takes up the important subject of cost accounting. If you wish to specialize this course will give you modern banking and leads up to a course in expert accounting."

"You can enroll any time for stenography, type writing, secretarial work and commercial teaching. We teach all subjects necessary to a complete course in stenography. The Gregg system is taught. All you need to have in order to become a stenographer is a fair command of the English language, a retentive memory and a legible hand writing."

"Shorthand is a habit-forming study. Habits are acquired, not by doing a thing once but by repetition. In the first lesson you learn a few vowels and consonants and by the end of the second day you are able to read and write several simple sentences. In this way you advance from day to day, acquiring a few more characters until in a few months you are ready for your first lessons in dictation. In the meantime you will have practiced your typewriting daily and by the time you are ready for dictation you will be able to transcribe your shorthand notes on the typewriter."

Secretarial Positions

"The best stenographers are almost invariably sought after for secretarial positions. Secretaries always command the highest salaries, in fact there is scarcely a limit to the salary of successful private secretaries. Many of our most prominent national figures began their careers as private secretaries."

Commercial Teaching

"Commercial teaching is a very lucrative field for high school or university graduate. The last few years have seen commercial courses opened in many of our high schools and the demand for commercial teachers has steadily increased. The salary for the beginner is almost invariably a substantial one, the work congenial and the hours short."

ST. CLOUD WINS
ARMY HOSPITAL

St. Cloud, July 27.—St. Cloud has been selected as the site for the proposed million dollar new tenth district veteran bureau hospital for treatment of neuropsychiatric cases. A report in favor of St. Cloud was submitted by the Veterans Bureau Planning committee setting forth several reasons why the St. Cloud site was preferable to Robbinsdale, Minneapolis and other sites considered at Watertown, S. D., Fargo, N. D., Brainerd, Minn.

The committee recommends St. Cloud to the exclusion of all other site was preferable to Robbinsdale, the following reasons:

It is nearer the medical center of the district, i. e. St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is nearer the center of the military population of the district. It is offered without condition and is immediately available.

Building material, granite, can be secured in abundance. St. Cloud being the center of the largest granite industry in the United States. Gravel can be secured on the premises as the result of excavation. Brick and tile are manufactured in the city of St. Cloud. All building material can be obtained at reasonable and fair prices. Labor can be secured easily at St. Cloud because of the proximity of St. Paul and Minneapolis. St. Cloud is nearer district headquarters for the Tenth district, which will facilitate business which will pass between the hospital and district office.

St. Cloud would provide a site of easy access from North and South Dakota and from the center of the military population of the state of Minnesota.

The city authorities make as a part of the offer, obtaining the railroad right-of-way for a railroad spur to the property so construction can begin immediately.

The elevation of the tract at St. Cloud is adequate and satisfactory. The sanitary conditions at St. Cloud are adequate and satisfactory.

Officers of the St. Cloud Commercial club were receiving the congratulations upon the successful culmination of their campaign to have St. Cloud selected for the location of the new $1,500,000 Tenth District Army hospital following publication of the news in a Times extra early last evening.

For more than 90 days the St. Cloud Commercial club has conducted an aggressive campaign. Options were secured early on four different locations, and when the army officers came to St. Cloud these were all inspected by them. The four proposed gift sites were:

The Arthur Cooper site—Located north of the St. Joseph road on the western limits of the city, consisting of 240 acres with a wooded frontage on Sauk River of nearly a mile. To this site later was added the 50-acre tract of J. B. Murphy, along the St. Joseph road, at the request of the inspecting officers. Cost approximately $50,000.

The Ludger Fougquette site—Located west of Waite Park.

North Side A. G. Whitney estate site—Located on the banks of the river north of St. Cloud and opposite Sauk Rapids.

South Side A. G. Whitney site—Located south of Riverside Park on the east side of the Mississippi.

The inspectors quickly eliminated all of the sites offered except the Cooper site. The two Whitney sites were eliminated because of inability of connection with railroad. The Fougquette site was not acceptable because of lack of sewer and water connections.

This left only the Cooper site. Because railroad sidetrack facilities would be absolutely necessary, the inspectors asked for a right-of-way and C. D. Schwab offered to furnish this over his land for a distance of half a mile.

The city commissioners agreed to make the necessary sewer and water extensions.

Arrangements were then made by the Commercial club to make immediate delivery of the site. This was made possible through the public spirit of a number of citizens.

This action was doubtless the determining factor on the part of the Veterans Bureau Planning committee in selecting St. Cloud for the location. In concluding its report, which is printed elsewhere in this article, the committee said:

Inasmuch as time is the essence in deciding upon the location for a hospital in the Tenth district and because of the fact that you desire to advertise for bids and let contracts for excavation immediately, we are, therefore, recommending St. Cloud as the site where you can immediately begin work, and where excavations and foundations can be started without delay.

The reasons for not reporting favorably on the other sites offered are as follows:

Robbinsdale, Minn.—This site is offered without conditions and was immediately available. It would no doubt be possibly the ideal site for a hospital in the Tenth district, but because of the fact that repeated efforts have been made to secure an offer to the government without success for several weeks and because of the fact that two representatives visited Minneapolis and St. Paul and endeavored to secure an offer without success, this site is being given no consideration.

Watertown, S. D., Fargo, N. D., Brainerd, Minn.—The sites of these places are not reported favorably to you for the reason that it is believed that St. Cloud is more in the center of the military population for the district. These sites are further removed from the district office of the Tenth district, i. e. St. Paul and Minneapolis and the sites are not as accessible to the district as a whole on account of railroad communication as is St. Cloud. Inasmuch as time is the essence in the deciding upon the location for a hospital in the Tenth district and because of the fact that you desire to advertise for bids and let contracts for excavation immediately, we are, therefore, recommending St. Cloud as the site where you can immediately begin work and where excavations and foundations can be started without delay.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

THE American public does not take kindly to the suggestion that industries be placed under government control. There are many reasons underlying this attitude of the public. In the first place, American industry, with all that it contains of good or ill, has been developed by individual and corporate initiative; and secondly, those things which are within the control of the government are so hampered by official red-tape that efficiency is not expected of them. The introduction of the budget system recently, has led to the saving of millions of dollars which otherwise would have been consumed in needless expenditures. The average man who visits congress and government departments, is disgusted by the waste of time in both. No industry could operate to advantage, under the management of the average congress; and congress, functioning as a board of directors of large industrial enterprises, would soon bring them to bankruptcy.

In addition to all this, experiments in government ownership or operation have not been distinctly successful; and whatever persons may think of the political aspirations and movements in Russia, there seems to be no questioning the fact that economically the country has broken down under government control of industry. And, however such facts may be discounted by those who say that Russia has been unable to successfully operate its factories because of the economic boycott instigated by the other nations of the world, people in general will not consider the reasons but will judge by the results. For after all is said, the standard of measurement in the age in which we live is the pragmatic standard which demands that a thing make good. The final question asked of any system or philosophy, government or business or industry, is this: Does it make good?

In the past American industry has met this test. In no country have such results been realized in business and industry as in the United States, and these results have been achieved by private initiative. But—and here lie the only reason for any consideration of government operation—at this time two of the largest industries in America are failing to meet the supreme test, which is the test of making good. At this time neither the coal industry nor the railroad systems are serving the public to the public's satisfaction. And serving the public is the reason for the existence of both. To place the blame for the break-down in providing the public with satisfactory service is beside the mark, for where is the person who would not, if a firm, in explaining faulty service stated, "Our employee's are to blame," ask of the firm, "And who is responsible for your employees?" In the business world reasons for failure are not accepted as an excuse for failure.

Therefore, when such important factors in a nation's life as its fuel producing and transportation enterprises fail to meet the needs of the public the government, representing the public, is required to consider the advisability of operating the mines and the railroads. These public utilities must either find a way to serve the public or the public will find some way to serve itself. The mines must produce and the railroads transport. If they fail to perform their function they have no justification for existence under present management. Excuses are not activities and plausible explanation is not service. If the self appointed servants of the people fail to function the nation must appoint servants who will serve.

BRAINERD'S MUNICIPAL BAND

THE attendance within the limits of Gregory Park every Wednesday evening indicates an appreciation of the program of band music played by the Municipal band. The many cars lined up around the park bear additional testimony to the pleasure Brainerd's citizens get from the weekly band concert.

This weekly musical treat is one of the many things that help to make life in Brainerd supremely worth while. And the conditions in which the music is played add charm to the weekly event. While people in other cities to the south and east are oppressed by the heat of the summer season, the people of Brainerd are afforded the pleasure of listening in comfort to the band concert. The glorious evening and the music laden air combine to make Wednesday evening an occasion of real enjoyment.

There is something about a band that appeals to nature, stirring notes affording a certain excitement, while the subdued strains bring a real tonic to tired and frayed nerves. And there is a cultural value and an esthetic charm to the concert which cannot be over-estimated.

The musicians, who give so many hours of their time to rehearsals, are to be congratulated on their self-denial; as they are to be praised for the splendid concerts they provide for the citizens of Brainerd. It is to be hoped that this civic asset will be so highly valued that a better and more means of providing for its continuance will be found. The support of Brainerd's Municipal band ought not to be left to chance but should be secured by some definite arrangement whereby the needs of the band are fully assured.

How many tourists are there in the lake region north of Brainerd who, to reach their location have passed through Brainerd? is an interesting question. Another question of interest to the business man in the city is: How much business have these tourists done with the business houses of this city? Many and much answer the questions, but not in figures.

THE public has reason to rejoice and be glad that the farmers have not gone on strike. While coal is scarce and trains are few, harvests are abundant. All fair minded people will wish the farmer to have better returns for his labor than last year offered.

THE children of Israel looked forward to the promised land, as Americans of the year 1922 looked forward to the fruits of reconstruction; but in both cases Jordan rolled between.

REGRETS over the speedy flight of summer days are tempered by the announcement that the season of the wood tick's borings is past.

"Big Business Men of Our Country Say We are Due for Wonderful Business Revival"

BRAINERD COMM. COLLEGE

President J. F. Goossen Advises Young Men and Women to Prepare for Business Training

"The big business men of our country say we are approaching a period of wonderful business revival", said J. F. Goossen, head of the Brainerd Commercial College located on the second floor of the city hall.

"Our captains of industry who have their fingers on the pulse of the nation's commerce are preparing for this coming period of prosperity."

"Young men and women can also prepare. While they are building new factories and creating new positions it is up to them to fit themselves to fill these positions. A thorough training, whether in stenography or bookkeeping, together with practical office instruction will put young persons on the road to success."

We stand ready to give you this training. We can give you the kind of instruction and the kind of practice that will enable you to take a position in the business world with perfect confidence. We give you the broad educational foundation upon which you can build a substantial business career. We also put you in touch with business opportunities. You get ready. We get you the position."

Purpose of School

"It is the purpose of this school to prepare young men and women to meet the demand of the business world. When a new demand occurs we prepare them to meet it. A new demand has occurred. To meet it we have established a department for training operators of bookkeeping, calculating and posting machines. This department has been equipped with a modern Burroughs adding and posting machine."

"Our 20th Century method of teaching bookkeeping and accounting is considered the most modern by all authorities. Not a thing is left to your imagination but all business forms that you will ever be called upon to use in any office are part and parcel of this course. Part I of this course is the individual set, Part II deals in partnership, Part III teaches corporation bookkeeping, Part IV takes up the important subject of cost accounting. If you wish to specialize this course will give you modern banking and leads up to a course in expert accounting."

"You can enroll any time for stenography, type writing, secretarial work and commercial teaching. We teach all subjects necessary to a complete course in stenography. The Gregg system is taught. All you need to have in order to become a stenographer is a fair command of the English language, a retentive memory and a legible hand writing."

"Shorthand is a habit-forming study. Habits are acquired, not by doing a thing once but by repetition. In the first lesson you learn a few vowels and consonants and by the end of the second day you are able to read and write several simple sentences. In this way you advance from day to day, acquiring a few more characters until in a few months you are ready for your first lessons in dictation. In the meantime you will have practiced your typewriting daily and by the time you are ready for dictation you will be able to transcribe your shorthand notes on the typewriter."

ST. CLOUD WINS

GOOD ROADS AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

Matter Received Much Consideration at the Meeting Held on Wednesday Evening

CO. ENGR. REPORTED AT SESSION

Chamber to Make a Bid for Next Summer Convention of Northern Minnesota Editorial Association

The matter of good roads was the subject that received much consideration at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening. The county highway engineer, Walter M. Murphy, reported that the road from Breezy Point, by way of Merrifield would be improved beginning next week. The road is very narrow at some points, particularly along the shore of Pelican lake. This will be brushed and widened, and if possible to secure surfacing material some of the bad spots will be surfaced.

The Chamber of Commerce went on record as favoring a one mill levy for county roads for the coming year.

Veterans' Hospital
The news item in Wednesday's Brainerd Dispatch stating that the Veterans' Hospital was to be located in St. Cloud brought forth much discussion and raised the question, "Why has Brainerd never received consideration when it came to locating a state or national institution?" The committee having this matter in charge was instructed to telegraph to Washington for further information regarding this matter.

(Editorial Note—In Thursday's Dispatch gives the reasons of the site locating committee why St. Cloud was selected in preference to Brainerd and other contenders.)

Northern Minnesota Editorial Association

The chairman of the publicity committee, John A. Hoffbauer, sent in a report in the form of a communication calling attention to the coming summer convention of the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association at Itasca Park and the fact that Brainerd had a chance of winning this convention next year. The convention is scheduled to meet August 9 to 13. Securing it would gain much publicity for Brainerd, because every member is a newspaper man. In line with this it would pay Brainerd to offer $50 in prizes, being $25 first prize, $15 second and $10 third for the best writeup of the Brainerd convention, should it be landed for 1923. Upon motion a committee was appointed consisting of John A. Hoffbauer and R. S. Wilcox, members of the editorial association, and O. J. Bouma, secretary of the Chamber.

Wood Fuel Survey
The chairman of the publicity committee also suggested that because of the fact that the state is about to undertake a survey of available fuel, the "Buy a Cord of Wood Committee" be revived in preparation for this winter, should a fuel shortage be imminent.

Secretaries Report

Secretary O. J. Bouma made a report of the financial condition of the Chamber of Commerce showing the expenses for the six months' period ending June 20th as follows:

Salaries	$1,890.98
Rent	450.00
Telephone and telegraph	38.79
House and social committee	175.00
Printing and stationery	105.11
Convention	204.34
Electricity	167.64
Taxes and insurance	60.00
Postage and incidentals	36.50
Permanent improvement	24.00
Miscellaneous	11.40

Total $3,263.76

The members have increased from 251 to 378. The total amount subscribed to the budget is $2,112 of which approximately one-half has been collected.

Activities of Year

Some of the activities of the first six months of the year of 1922 are as follows:

- Getting out literature advertising the lake region, especially the map used in the information bureau which has received favorable comment from various sources.
- Interest in the development of the poultry industry.
- "Buy a Cord of Wood" campaign.
- Land clearing demonstration.
- Farmers institutions, attending Farm Bureau meetings.
- Organization of building and loan.
- Cooperation with the county agent.
- Active and successful support of highway construction program.
- Fiftieth anniversary and homecoming celebration.

Road Signs

The road signs which have been secured will be placed by the chairman of county and good roads committee beginning Thursday. The funds have been secured for the payment of these signs and the cost of placing them.

Parks and Playgrounds

Carl Wright, chairman of parks and playgrounds, gave a report of the activity of the committee with special reference to tourists' camp site, and requested that members of the Chamber volunteer to visit the camp each evening and offer assistance and information to the campers.

John H. Krekelberg spoke of the interest in the "Little House on the Corner" and suggested that business men volunteer to spend a little time each day in this information bureau assisting the secretary in furnishing information to tourists. P. M. Zakariasen volunteered and was on duty Thursday assisting 15 tourist parties, some from Pittsburgh and Chicago, in the morning. Mr. Krekelberg also offered to spend some time at this work at the request of the secretary.

Mail Service

W. R. Spencer called attention to the poor mail service and suggested that it might be possible to have another main line train routed through Brainerd. Upon motion the matter was referred to the railway committee.

Building & Loan Association
T. B. Brusegard spoke on the building and loan association, stating that three loans, one for $3500, one for $1400 and one for $1000 had been made, and that the income for partial payment stock was $120 a month. Paid up stock amounted to $5200.

TOOK TWO CADDIES WITH THEM

Dryburgh Made a 300 Yard Drive on 4th Hole, Egan an Eagle 3 on a 460 Yard Hole

Edward J. Egan, Jock Dryburgh and W. R. Hiller have returned from Wadena where they played golf, testing out the Wadena links. They were accompanied by two caddies, Joe Ryan and young Opsahl.

The trio of Brainerd golfers played 36 holes four times around and enjoyed their trip thoroughly. The outstanding features of 36 holes was a 300 yard drive by Dryburgh on the fourth hole second time around; an eagle three on a 460 yard hole the second time around by Egan; and a 50 yard put on the fourth hole by Hiller the third time around.

Detroit is putting in an additional nine holes, making a 18 hole course. The three Brainerd golfers did not play in the tournament, the amateur, tournament having been canceled. The regular amateur tournament runs Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The golfers returned to Brainerd last night very enthusiastic about their experiences, but still decidedly in favor of Brainerd's course.

At the local grounds Saturday and Sunday there will be a sweepstakes ball tournament and it is hoped a large number of players will be out. The club house is now completed and the furniture will be installed tomorrow.

Arrangements are now being made to go to St. Cloud Sunday, August 6, and the club will arrange for weekly matches with neighboring clubs for the balance of the season if possible.

PAY DAY TO BE ON JULY 29TH

Pay day for shopmen in Brainerd, July 29th, and the men will be paid off, as on May 15th, at the freight house.

Golf Breakfasts

It's all the rage in Bemidji to give golf breakfasts and luncheons.

For instance: Dr. and Mrs. D. F. McCann and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Moore entertained at a golf breakfast Sunday at Moore's home. A two-ball jazz tournament was played and the prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Barney Clifford of Minneapolis. The party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clifford who are summering at Birchmont.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Sandoin and sister, Mrs. Ferrel of St. Paul entertained 16 guests at a golf luncheon Sunday noon.

ST. JOHN'S READY WITH NEW COACH

Fred L. Sanborn of Brainerd to Assume His Duties at College on September 6th

SANBORN SUCCEEDS ED. CAHILL

St. John's to Play Kamline, Macalester, St. Thomas, St. Cloud, St. Mary's and St. Olaf

St. John's college is ready with a new coach, Fred L. Sanborn, of Brainerd, and under his guidance expects to win football honors.

With the completion of Bennett Hall, the new college building, the collegian attendance of St. John's will take a jump skyward next season and of course a larger college attendance means a greater variety of material for Coach Sanborn, new football mentor, to pick his lineup from.

Coach Sanborn, who takes the place of former Coach Edward Cahill is at present getting into perfect trim at the lakes in the vicinity of Brainerd. Sanborn has the reputation of being a crack football director and his own ability while in the game augurs well for his future success. He will arrive at St. John's on September 6.

Some of the back field men who are almost certain to be back for the fall term include: McNally, McGovern, Capt. Koepp, Gornick, Wahl and Tierney. Last year's line will be practically intact again next fall. Ormond Siebenand, Connor, Mollers, Faue, and Noack are all expected to return; Leisen and "Heavy" Smith are the only linemen that will be missing at the first practice. Some of the likely candidates for the team to be recruited from the leagues of last year include Andy Parnell, next year's baseball captain; Blake, Gress, Kreitinger, Kuhl, Bauman and Leuthner. Leuthner, former Alexandria quarterback, looks like a fair bet for next year's signal caller.

The new faculty representative is Rev. Albert Heuring, O. S. B., who has been appointed to take the place of Rev. Mark Braun, who has left for the Catholic University at Washington.

The schedule for the coming year is as follows:

St. John's at Hamline—Sept. 30.
Macalester at St. John's—Oct. 7.
St. John's at St. Thomas—Oct. 14.
St. John's at St. Cloud—Oct. 21 (probably Teachers College.)
St. John's at St. Mary's—Oct. 28.
Open—Nov. 4.
St. Olaf at St. John's—Nov. 11 (tentative.)

In addition to the above schedule Coach Sanborn is anxious to secure a good practice game early in the season. St. Cloud Technical has been mentioned.

Final work is being done on the enlarged campus which will be, when completed, large enough for two football fields and three baseball diamonds. It is expected that the "Greater Bowl" will be ready for use next fall.

EARLY to bed, early to rise, stick to your business and advertise.

TOUR NORTHERN LAKES

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pfaff of St. Cloud Visited Friends and Relatives in Brainerd

(St. Cloud Daily Journal Press)
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pfaff, 507 Second avenue northeast, and Mrs. Mary Loughlen, 825 Ninth avenue north, have returned from an extended motor trip through the northern part of the state. While motoring through that section they visited friends and relatives in Brainerd, Gull Lake, Backus, Round Lake, etc., and returned by way of Mille Lacs.

Mrs. Pfaff is planning to go on another trip this week in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. White and son, Roland, of Foley. They will tour through Hibbing to International Falls. While traveling the party will visit at the Hibbing home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross, who have but recently returned from an extended trip through Canada.

SIXTH DISTRICT BUDDIES TO MEET

Over a Hundred Former Service Men to Attend the Convention at St. Cloud on July 31

FIRST ONE HELD IN BRAINERD

Various Forms of Entertainment are Planned by Citizens to Entertain Visiting Delegates

(St. Cloud Daily Journal Press)
Over one hundred delegates as well as many visitors will attend the Sixth District convention of the American Legion to be held in St. Cloud on Monday, July 31. In accordance with plans made at the state convention held in Winona last year each district holds an annual meeting. The first one of these district conventions was held in Brainerd last fall.

Various forms of entertainment are being planned by citizens for the visiting delegation. The executive committee of the Wallace S. Chute post of the legion has made arrangements for the doings. The Kiwanis club will be hosts to the delegates at luncheon on Monday. Following the convention session to be held in the afternoon the legionnaires will be taken on an auto tour through the city. A banquet will be served in the evening.

Completion of arrangements for the entertainment will be made on Friday night when members of the Wallace Chute post again meet in executive session.

GOOD ROADS AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

Matter Received Much Consideration at the Meeting Held on Wednesday Evening

CO. ENGR. REPORTED AT SESSION

Chamber to Make a Bid for Next Summer Convention of Northern Minnesota Editorial Association

The matter of good roads was the subject that received much consideration at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening. The county highway engineer, Walter M. Murphy, reported that the road from Breezy Point, by way of Merrifield would be improved beginning next week. The road is very narrow at some points, particularly along the shore of Pelican lake. This will be brushed and widened, and if possible to secure surfacing material some of the bad spots will be surfaced.

The Chamber of Commerce went on record as favoring a one mill levy for county roads for the coming year.

Veterans' Hospital

The news item in Wednesday's Brainerd Dispatch stating that the Veterans' Hospital was to be located in St. Cloud brought forth much discussion and raised the question, "Why has Brainerd never received consideration when it came to locating a state or national institution?" The committee having this matter in charge was instructed to telegraph to Washington for further information regarding this matter.

(Editorial Note—In Thursday's Dispatch gives the reasons of the site locating committee why St. Cloud was selected in preference to Brainerd and other contenders).

Northern Minnesota Editorial Association

The chairman of the publicity committee, John A. Hoffbauer, sent in a report in the form of a communication calling attention to the coming summer convention of the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association at Itasca Park and the fact that Brainerd had a chance of winning this convention next year. The convention is scheduled to meet August 9 to 13. Securing it would gain much publicity for Brainerd, because every member is a newspaper man. In line with this it would pay Brainerd to offer $50 in prizes, being $25 first prize, $15 second and $10 third for the best writup of the Brainerd convention, should it be landed for 1923. Upon motion a committee was appointed consisting of John A. Hoffbauer and R. S. Wilcox, members of the editorial association, and O. J. Bouma, secretary of the Chamber.

Wood Fuel Survey

The chairman of the publicity committee also suggested that because of the fact that the state is about to undertake a survey of available fuel, the "Buy a Cord of Wood Committee" be revived in preparation for this winter, should a fuel shortage be imminent.

Secretaries Report

Secretary O. J. Bouma made a report of the financial condition of the Chamber of Commerce showing the expenses for the six months' period ending June 20th as follows:

Salaries	$1,890.98
Rent	450.00
Telephone and telegraph	38.79
House and social committee	175.00
Printing and stationery	105.11
Convention	204.34
Electricity	167.64
Taxes and insurance	60.00
Postage and incidentals	36.50
Permanent improvement	24.00
Miscellaneous	11.40

Total $3,263.75
The members have increased from 251 to 378. The total amount subscribed to the budget is $2,112 of which approximately one-half has been collected.

Activities of Year

Some of the activities of the first six months of the year of 1922 are as follows:

Getting out literature advertising the lake region, especially the map used in the information bureau which has received favorable comment from various sources.
Interest in the development of the poultry industry.
"Buy a Cord of Wood" campaign.
Land clearing demonstration.
Farmers institutions, attending Farm Bureau meetings.
Organization of building and loan cooperation with the county agent.
Active and successful support of highway construction program.
Fiftieth anniversary and home coming celebration.
Road Signs
The road signs which have been secured will be placed by the chairman of county and good roads committee beginning Thursday. The funds have been secured for the payment of these signs and the cost of placing them.

Parks and Playgrounds

Carl Wright, chairman of parks and playgrounds, gave a report of the activity of the committee with special reference to tourists' camp site, and requested that members of the Chamber volunteer to visit the camp each evening and offer assistance and information to the campers.

John H. Krekelberg spoke of the interest in the "Little House on the Corner" and suggested that business men volunteer to spend a little time each day in this information bureau assisting the secretary in furnishing information to tourists. P. M. Zakariasen volunteered and was on duty Thursday assisting 15 tourist parties, some from Pittsburgh and Chicago, in the morning. Mr. Krekelberg also offered to spend some time at this work at the request of the secretary.

Mail Service

W. R. Spencer called attention to the poor mail service and suggested that it might be possible to have another main line train routed through Brainerd. Upon motion the matter was referred to the railway committee.

Building & Loan Association

T. B. Brusegard spoke of the building and loan association, stating that three loans, one for $3500, one for $1400 and one for $1000 had been made, and that the income for partial payment stock was $120 a month. Paid up stock amounted to $5200.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Woman God Changed" at Lyceum

A wide-eyed, winsome blond girl faced D. W. Griffith not so long ago, and asked for a try-out on the screen. "Oh, you'll never do for the screen," that director said, "you are too calm and have no emotions apparently."

"Well, Mr. Griffith," answered Seena Owen, bravely, "if you think I'm calm you just ought to see the way my heart's fluttering, for I am scared to death you won't take me."

And that was the winning card, for it was ample evidence of her acting quality. This same quality has been developed consistently in each of that pretty young woman's screen appearances, until it has reached its zenith in her latest undertaking, the leading role of Cosmopolitan's new production, "The Woman God Changed," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre for the last time tonight.

"Of course, there are many ways to get on the screen," Miss Owen averred one morning on the studio floor, still breathless from the exertion of one of her big screen scenes, "but there is only one way to stay, I mean hard work, mental and physical. Work while you're on the set, whether in a small part or an extra role. Watch your director. Study his every purpose. When you're not in the scene don't go off for a nap or a bite to eat, but sit as close up as possible and keep your eyes and ears open and your brain operating. There is always more, and yet more, to be learned about the film game for everyone in it."

"Nobody's Fool"

The charming Mack Sennett bathing beauty, Marie Prevost, will be seen at the Lyceum tomorrow and Saturday in "Nobody's Fool."

"Midsummer Madness" Coming

To sin in thought may not in the eyes of the law be as serious an offense as to sin in act, but morally it often has just as serious consequences. "Midsummer Madness," the feature picture which comes to the Lyceum next Monday and Tuesday, treats of this theme in a manner that will please and startle audiences. The story was adapted from a novel by Cosmo Hamilton. Jack Holt, Lila Lee, Lois Wilson and Conrad Nagel play the leading roles. William De Mille produced the picture, which is a Paramount.

Establish Grading Stations

Fargo, July 26.—As part of the "know your own grain" campaign, the federal government will establish ten grain grading stations, two each in North and South Dakota and in Minnesota. Farmers may send their grain there for grading any time between Aug. 1 and Nov. 1.

Professor Gordon W. Randlett of the North Dakota agricultural college has been authoritatively informed on the above announcements.

Two schools instructing county agents on grain grading have just been concluded, one in Fargo and the other in Brookings, S. D.

Twenty from Minnesota and North Dakota attended the Fargo school.

WILL THESE CONSTITUTE THE NEW DRESS FOR WOMEN THIS FALL SEASON?

All below the knees. We wonder whether women in America would object to these new Paris fashions. These models were exhibited at the celebrated style show, at the Prix des Drags, Paris, recently. Each dress was built along different lines, of different materials and colors. The one to the left is of lavender. Second blue and white. Third, black and white broadcloth with sunshade to match. Fourth, black dress with white waist.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Ample Credit For Farmers

Fargo, July 27.—There is ample credit available from the War Finance corporation and Federal Reserve bank to aid farmers in the orderly marketing of their wheat this fall. E. J. Weiser, North Dakota banker, and director of the War Finance corporation, declares.

"I can see no reason why any man in good standing, having grain to sell and with storage facilities for holding it, cannot get all the help he needs. I feel sure that the notes of the farmers given for such a time as will insure an orderly marketing of their crop will be gladly handled by the larger banks."

Build Student Hospital

Minneapolis, July 27.—A student hospital and dispensary equipped to care for both contagious and non-contagious diseases will be built at the University farm this summer. The "home" building will be remodeled at a cost of $12,000 to house the hospital. The building will have a space for 80 beds in addition to a laboratory and operating room.

PROGRESSIVES AND SERVICE MEN COMING TO THE NEXT CONGRESS

(By United Press.) Washington, July 27.—Congress is due for an infusion of "young blood," as this year's campaign finds many of the veterans of the legislative halls retiring to their homes, either from choice or because of the popular will. Not only will younger men, in many cases, occupy the seats now held by stalwarts of another day, but men of a younger political era, indications are, will be more numerous in the next congress than in many years.

The "young bloods," it now appears likely, will be largely in two groups—the so-called progressives, and the service men, veterans of the world war.

The progressives bid fair to infuse new life into the progressive block in the senate by increasing its numbers, while in the house the already considerable representation of war veterans probably will be substantially increased.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, patriarch of Capitol Hill, who will retire, rounds out 46 years service in the House next March. Fordney of Michigan, joint author with Senator McCumber, of the Fordney-McCumber tariff, now under discussion in the senate, is retiring after 24 years' continuous service. Rodenberg, Illinois, after 20 years, has declined to run again. Mondell, Wyoming, is a candidate for senate, after 26 years in the house.

In the senate, McCumber, North Dakota, fourth oldest in length of service in the upper chamber, leaves after 24 years, being defeated for the republican nomination by former Governor Lynn J. Frazier. Culberson, Texas, a candidate for re-election, Warren, Wyoming; Nelson, Minnesota, and Lodge, Massachusetts, are the only ones who were in the senate when McCumber was first elected. McCumber is 64.

Page, of Vermont, probably will not be a candidate again, after serving since 1908. Williams, Mississippi, 68, elected in 1911, refuses to be a candidate for re-election.

Passing of the captains who for so long have kept the capitol ship on an even keel, at once opens up the perplexing question of seniority rule in appointing committee chairmen.

Heretofore, with few exceptions, it has been the unwritten law that point of service shall determine chairmanships. The most notable deviation was the appointment of Rep. Madden, Ill., to the chairmanship of the appropriations committee.

The seniority question in the senate is particularly annoying to party leaders. With McCumber out, Smoot, Utah, ordinarily, would succeed to head of the finance committee. But Smoot is on the appropriations committee, and cannot hold both posts. If he should decide to remain with appropriation, a Follette, Wisconsin, whom conservatives have tried "to read out" of the republican party, would, under seniority rule, succeed to the finance chairmanship. That is not at all the aim of the old guard who are opposed to liberals in important senate posts.

A similar situation develops in the foreign relations committee. Should Lodge be defeated for re-election, Borah, Idaho, whose ideas on world relationships are not in accord with old guard policies, approaches the chairmanship. McCumber at present is the ranking republican.

Briefly the situation which confronts standpatters simmers down to this:

While seniority rule, as a usual thing, is satisfactory, certain instances arrive when the committee must brave to deviate from the long-established unwritten law.

This appears to be the year—with two republican "insurgents" in line for two of the most important committee posts in the senate.

Birds That Fell Trees.
A bird's nest as big as a house! It sounds a tall order, and you might think that only some kind of super-orchid could make it.

As a matter of fact, it is built by a little fellow no bigger than a canary. South African society birds like company. They live in large colonies, all the members of which build in the same tree.

Each pair constructs a nest of mud, joining its walls to those of its next-door neighbors. As the colonies are several thousand strong, the bird town soon reaches a very respectable size.

The following season the colony occupies the same tree, building new nests on top of the old ones. The tree creaks and groans, but the society birds take no notice.

Sometimes the huge mass of nests comes crashing down, and the air is filled with dust, feathers, and frightened squeals. But often the tree itself is weighed down by the industrious colonizers, until eventually it collapses beneath the weight of their homes.

Curious Mediterranean Fish.

A creature which has a beak like a parrot, cheek pouches like those of a monkey, and chews its cud like a cow inhabits the warm waters of the Mediterranean. It browses on the weeds that flourish on the sea floor. Its upper and lower jaws have become hardened into a sharp curved beak, which is just the tool required for lopping off tough seaweed. Each piece snipped off by the beak is passed into one of the two curious pouches which adorn the cheeks, and there it remains until the parrot fish feels that it has collected enough for a good meal. It then chews the cud by means of the splendid set of teeth, which nature has placed not in its mouth, but in its throat.

'The Woman God Changed' at Lyceum

A wide-eyed, winsome blond girl faced D. W. Griffith not so long ago, and asked for a try-out on the screen. "Oh, you'll never do for the screen," that director said, "you are too calm and have no emotions apparently."

"Well, Mr. Griffith," answered Seena Owen, bravely, "if you think I'm calm you just ought to see the way my heart's fluttering, for I am scared to death you won't take me."

And that was the winning card, for it was ample evidence of her acting quality. This same quality has been developed consistently in each of that pretty young woman's screen appearances, until it has reached its zenith in her latest undertaking, the leading role of Cosmopolitan's new production, "The Woman God Changed," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre for the last time tonight.

"Of course, there are many ways to get on the screen," Miss Owen averred one morning on the studio floor, still breathless from the exertion of one of her big screen scenes, "but there is only one way to stay. I mean hard work, mental and physical. Work while you're on the set, whether in a small part or an extra role. Watch your director. Study his every purpose. When you're not in the scene don't go off for a nap or a bite to eat, but sit as close up as possible and keep your eyes and ears open and your brain operating. There is always more, and yet more, to be learned about the film game for every one in it."

'Nobody's Fool'

The charming Mack Sennett bathing beauty, Marie Prevost, will be seen at the Lyceum tomorrow and Saturday in "Nobody's Fool."

'Midsummer Madness' Coming

To sin in thought may not in the eyes of the law be as serious an offense as to sin in act, but morally it often has just as serious consequences. "Midsummer Madness," the feature picture which comes to the Lyceum next Monday and Tuesday, treats of this theme in a manner that will please and startle audiences. The story was adapted from a novel by Cosmo Hamilton. Jack Holt, Lila Lee, Lois Wilson and Conrad Nagel play the leading roles. William De Mille produced the picture, which is a Paramount.

Establish Grading Stations

Fargo, July 26.—As part of the "know your own grain" campaign, the federal government will establish ten grain grading stations, two each in North and South Dakota and in Minnesota. Farmers may send their grain there for grading any time between Aug. 1 and Nov. 1.

Professor Gordon W. Randlett of the North Dakota agricultural college has been authoritatively informed on the above announcements.

Two schools instructing county agents on grain grading have just been concluded, one in Fargo and the other in Brookings, S. D.

Twenty from Minnesota and North Dakota attended the Fargo school.

EARLY to bed, early to rise, stick to your business and advertise.

WILL THESE CONSTITUTE THE NEW DRESS FOR WOMEN THIS FALL SEASON?

All below the knees. We wonder whether women in America would object to these new Paris fashions. These models were exhibited at the celebrated style show, at the Prix des Drags, Paris, recently. Each dress was built along different lines, of different materials and colors. The one to the left is of lavender. Second blue and white. Third, black and white broadcloth with sunshade to match. Fourth, black dress with white waist.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Ample Credit For Farmers

Fargo, July 27.—There is ample credit available from the War Finance corporation and Federal Reserve bank to aid farmers in the orderly marketing of their wheat this fall," E. J. Weiser, North Dakota banker, and director of the War Finance corporation, declares.

"I can see no reason why any man in good standing, having grain to sell and with storage facilities for holding it, cannot get all the help he needs. "I feel sure that the notes of the farmers given for such a time as will insure an orderly marketing of his crop will be gladly handled by the larger banks."

Build Student Hospital

Minneapolis, July 27.—A student hospital and dispensary equipped to care for both contagious and non-contagious diseases will be built at the University farm this summer.

The "home" building will be remodeled at a cost of $12,000 to house the hospital. The building will have a space for 80 beds in addition to a laboratory and operating room.

PROGRESSIVES AND SERVICE MEN COMING TO THE NEXT CONGRESS

(By United Press.) Washington, July 27.—Congress is due for an infusion of "young blood," as this year's campaign finds many of the veterans of the legislative halls retiring to their homes, either from choice or because of the popular will. Not only will younger men, in many cases, occupy the seats now held by stalwarts of another day, but men of a younger political era, indications are, will be more numerous in the next congress than in many years.

The "young bloods," it now appears likely, will be largely in two groups—the so-called progressives, and the service men, veterans of the world war. The progressives bid fair to infuse new life into the progressive block in the senate by increasing its numbers, while in the house the already considerable representation of war veterans probably will be substantially increased.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, patriarch of Capitol Hill, who will retire, rounds out 46 years service in the House next March. Fordney of Michigan, joint author with Senator McCumber, of the Fordney-McCumber tariff, now under discussion in the senate, is retiring after 24 years' continuous service. Rodenberg, Illinois, after 20 years, has declined to run again. Mondell, Wyoming, is a candidate for senate, after 26 years in the house.

In the senate, McCumber, North Dakota, fourth oldest in length of service in the upper chamber, leaves after 24 years, being defeated for the republican nomination by former Governor Lynn J. Frazier. Culberson, Texas, a candidate for re-election, Warren, Wyoming; Nelson, Minnesota, and Lodge, Massachusetts, are the only ones who were in the senate when McCumber was first elected. McCumber is 64.

Page, of Vermont, probably will not be a candidate again, after serving since 1908. Williams, Mississippi, 68, elected in 1911, refuses to be a candidate for re-election.

Passing of the captains who for so long have kept the capitol ship on an even keel, at once opens up the perplexing question of seniority rule in appointing committee chairmen.

Heretofore, with few exceptions, it has been the unwritten law that point of service shall determine chairmanships. The most notable deviation was the appointment of Rep. Madden, Ill., to the chairmanship of the appropriations committee.
